A BLACK SCREEN

SPIDER-MAN (V.O.)

Who am I? You sure you wanna know?
The story of my life is not for the faint of heart.

1 EXT. PARKER HOUSE - DAY (1987)

A cab pulls up to an average house in Queens.

SPIDER-MAN (V.O.) (CONT'D)

If somebody said it was a happy little tale, if somebody told you I was just your average, ordinary guy, not a care in the world.

A SOCIAL WORKER, gets out, holding the hand of PETER PARKER
(4). Tears streaming down his face, he lugs a small suitcase.
The cab motors away showing Peter--

--his new home. AUNT MAY and UNCLE BEN stand on the porch, smiling. The Social Worker leads Peter up the steps. Uncle Ben extends his hand. Peter looks up at the Social Worker, she nods. Peter looks back at the loving hand before him, takes it. Uncle Ben and Aunt May lead Peter inside. Peter turns, looks at the Social Worker. The door closes.

somebody lied.

A2 EXT. A SCHOOL BUS - DAY

A yellow school bus roars through Queens.

SPIDER-MAN (V.O.)

Mine is a tale of pain and sorrow, longing and heartache, anger and betrayal. And that just covers the high school years.

2 INT. A SCHOOL BUS - DAY

A bus full of teenagers. We float down the center aisle, drifting from face to face--

SPIDER-MAN

But let me assure you -- this, like any story worth telling, is all about a girl.

--holding on MARY JANE WATSON, knockout pretty but sad eyes, too sad for seventeen, looking out the window of the bus.

SPIDER-MAN (V.O.) (CONT'D)

That girl... Mary Jane Watson, M.J., to her friends. The woman I've loved since before I even liked girls.

An arm drapes around M.J.'s shoulders, FLASH THOMPSON, self-assured, handsome, the high school Big Name. He's looking across the bus, out the window, HOWLING with laughter.

SPIDER-MAN (V.O.) (CONT'D)

I'd like to tell you that's me next to her.

We pull back, toward the front of the bus. Another KID.

SPIDER-MAN (V.O.) (CONT'D)

Or even that.

Further back. Another KID, messily eating a jelly doughnut.

SPIDER-MAN (V.O.) (CONT'D)

Heck, I'd even take him.

3

We turn, look out the window, see what they're laughing about. PETER PARKER, 17, bespectacled and book-bagged, chasing after the school bus, to the derision of everyone aboard.

M.J. can't take it anymore. She jumps up, hurries to the front of the bus and SHOUTS over the laughter, to the DRIVER.

M.J.

Stop the bus?! He's been chasing us since Woodhaven Boulevard!

There is a collective AWWW as the bus slows down.

AT THE FRONT

Peter climbs onto the bus, breathless, limping.

PETER

Thanks... sorry... sorry... thanks...

He eyes an open seat next to a GEEKY GIRL with a mouthful of braces. She makes eye contact with Peter, moves her books to occupy the vacant space.

GEEKY GIRL

Don't even think about it.

Peter moves on. As he makes his way down the aisle, M.J. sits down next to Flash again, next to the window this time. When she's not looking, Flash slides his foot out in front of Peter's beat up sneakers. Peter trips and falls, hard, face down in the aisle. More laughter. M.J. looks sharply at Flash -- did you do that?

FLASH

(outraged innocence)

What?

On the floor, Peter lifts his head, looks up at Flash and M.J. Flash is grinning, M.J. is staring down at him with pity. Peter looks up at her, helpless, glasses dangling from one ear. *

SPIDER-MAN (V.O.)

That's me. Peter Parker.

4 EXT. QUEENSBORO BRIDGE - DAY 4

The yellow bus crosses the Queensboro Bridge and heads for the spectacular skyline of Manhattan.

5 EXT. COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY - DAY 5

A stressed out TEACHER, with a clipboard, enters frame. The students are gathered around the steps. Teen energy. Peter, his camera hanging around his neck, stands alone. M.J. is with her girlfriends.

TEACHER

Okay, people, no wandering! Proceed directly up to the KNOCK IT THE HELL OFF! up the steps and into the building.

They all move slowly to steps. They turn to see:

A CHAUFFEUR-DRIVEN BENTLEY - PULLING TO THE CURB

Inside is HARRY OSBORN, seventeen, sits in the back seat, next to NORMAN OSBORN, mid-forties. Norman exudes power and anger. Harry is slowly acquiring both.

6 INT. BENTLEY DAY 6

HARRY

Dad, could you drive around the corner.

OSBORN

Why? The door's right here.

HARRY

These are public school kids. I'm not showing up to school in a Bentley. *

OSBORN

What? You want me to trade in my car for a Jetta because you flunked out of every private school I sent you to? *

HARRY

They were not for me. I told you that. It wasn't me.

OSBORN

Of course it was!
(reaches for Harry's door)
Don't ever be ashamed of who you are.

HARRY

Dad, I'm not ashamed, I'm just not what you...

OSBORN

What, Harry?

HARRY

Forget it, dad.

Harry gets out of the Bentley.

7 EXT. COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY DAY 7

PETER

(big lovely grin)
Hi ya, Harry.

HARRY

Hey, Peter.

Behind them the car door opens. Norman emerges holding Harry's book bag.

OSBORN

Won't you be needing this?

Osborn hands Harry the bag.

HARRY

(moving around car to sidewalk)
Peter, this is my father, Norman
Osborn. *

PETER

Great honor to meet you. *

Harry is looking off at M.J. who is making conversation with her girlfriends about the arrival of the Bentley.

OSBORN

I've heard a lot about you. Harry tells me you're quite the science whiz. *

PETER

Well, I don't know about that. *

HARRY

He's being modest. I told you, he's won all the prizes. *

OSBORN

Anyone who can get Harry to pass
Chemistry shouldn't be modest.

PETER

Harry's really smart. He didn't really need my help. *

HARRY

We have to go, Dad.

Norman lays his paternal hand on Harry's shoulder, squeezes too hard.

OSBORN

I'm something of a scientist myself, you know.

PETER

I know. I know all about OsCorp. You guys are designing the guidance and re-entry systems for the first shuttle mission to Mars. Really brilliant. *

OSBORN

Impressive. Your parents must be proud. *

PETER

I live with my aunt and uncle, they're proud. *

OSBORN

What about your folks? *

PETER

My parents died when I was little. *

OSBORN

I lost my parents as a young boy as well. *

HARRY

Which no doubt strengthened your iron will to succeed, huh, dad? *

TEACHER

HEY, YOU TWO, I'M CLOSING THE DOOR! *

PETER

(moving away)
Nice to meet you, Mr. Osborn.

OSBORN

See you again. *

HARRY

(moving fast up steps, passes
M.J., smiles)

Hi.

They walk in. Harry smiles at M.J., now in front of Flash.

PETER

He doesn't seem so bad.

HARRY

Not if you're a genius. I think he wants to adopt you.

Harry discretely calls Peter's attention to M.J., primes him to say something. *

HARRY (cont'd) *

Hey. *

(nods to M.J.) *

Say something. *

They approach. M.J. waits, feels the energy. Nothing comes. Harry steps in to fill the awkward moment. *

HARRY (cont'd) *

Hi. How ya doing? *

M.J. smiles. *

M.J. *

Hey. *

Peter does nothing, they continue on. *

HARRY *

Why didn't you say something? *

PETER *

I was about to. It wasn't the right moment. *

Peter manages to look back over his shoulder to where Harry's father still stands beside his car. *

CLOSER SHOT OF NORMAN

Looking off. He seems a lonely figure. Over him, we hear:

TOUR GUIDE (O.S.)

There are more than 32,000 known species of spider in the world.

Thirty-odd students and their teacher are led around a cavernous laboratory by a TOUR GUIDE. They pass a number of large spider exhibits.

TOUR GUIDE

They are in the order Aranae, which is divided into three sub-orders -- Mesothelea, Orthognatha, and Labidognatha.

(MORE)

All spiders are carnivorous, ravenous eaters who feed on massive quantities of protein, in liquid form, usually the juices of their prey. Arachnids from each of the three groups possess varying strengths which help them in their constant search for food.

Peter, the camera around his neck, keeps an eye on M.J. who is joking around with her friends. Flash moves to M.J., puts his arm around her, nuzzles her neck. Peter winces and turns away, back to the tour. M.J. sees Peter's reaction. She pulls away from Flash, embarrassed.

For example, the jumping spider -- family Salticidae, genus Salticus --

TEACHER

Excuse me. Is anyone paying attention to the genus Salticus?

(to Guide)

I apologize, go on.

TOUR GUIDE

The genus Salticus can leap up to forty times its body length, thanks to a proportionate muscular strength vastly greater than that of a human being.

Peter catches the eye of the Tour Guide and gestures to his camera -- okay to take a few pictures?

PETER

For the school paper?

The Tour Guide nods. A few STUDENTS around Peter roll their eyes, one or two mutter "geek." Peter ignores them, raises the camera. Behind him, one of Flash's CRONIES bumps Peter's elbow on purpose, ruins the picture. Other kids laugh.

TOUR GUIDE

The funnel web spider -- family Hexathelidae, genus Atrax -- one of the deadliest spiders in the world, spins an intricate, funnel-shaped web whose strands have a tensile strength proportionately equal to the type of high-tension wire used in bridge building.

Peter raises the camera again, gets bumped again. He turns. Flash's Crony steps forward, threatening. A VOICE mutters from nearby.

HARRY

Leave him alone.

Flash's Crony turns, sees Harry Osborn staring at him.

FLASH'S CRONY

Or what?

BOY

Or his father will fire your father.

HARRY (ALT.)

Or my father will fire your father.

Laughter.

TEACHER

(loud & clear)

The next person who talks is going to fail this course. I kid you not.

TOUR GUIDE

The crab spider -- family Thomisidae, genus Misumena -- spins no web to catch its prey, but hunts instead, using a set of reflexes with nerve conduction velocities so fast some researchers believe it almost borders on precognition, an early awareness of danger, a "spider sense."

WIDER SHOT

They reach the center of the rotunda floor, where RESEARCHERS work at computers surrounding an electron microscope. Large video screens around the room display giant images of the microscope's area of scrutiny -- spider DNA.

TOUR GUIDE (cont'd)

Over five painstaking years, Columbia's genetic research facility has fully mapped the genetic codes of each of these spiders.

UP ABOVE THEM,

in the high arch of the rotunda, a single spider sits at the center of a magnificent web, glistening in the light.

TOUR GUIDE (O.S.) (CONT'D)

Armed with these DNA blueprints, we have now begun what was once thought impossible -- inter-species genetic transmutation.

19

DOWN BELOW,

TOUR GUIDE (CONT'D)

In this Recombination Lab, we use synthesized transfer-RNA to encode an entirely new genome, combining genetic information from all three spiders into these fifteen genetically designed super-spiders, the first mankind has ever produced.

The class checks it out. Creepy-looking mutant spiders crawl about in a glass tank.

M.J.

(wide-eyed, loving it)
Disgusting.

HARRY

Hateful little thing.

M.J.

I love it.

HARRY

Really? Me, too.

TOUR GUIDE

Just imagine -- if one day we can isolate the strengths, powers, and immunities in human beings and transfer that DNA code among ourselves. All known disease could be wiped out. Of course, we're nowhere near ready to start experimenting with humans, so for the moment we're concentrating on these fifteen spiders. Any questions?

PETER

(whispering)

Fourteen.

HARRY

Fourteen?

TOUR GUIDE

I beg your pardon?

PETER

There's only fourteen spiders.

TOUR GUIDE

No, there's fifteen. Aren't there?

As he and the others turn their attention to the tank and start counting the spiders, we drift up to the ceiling.

UP IN THE ROTUNDA ARCH,

A spider's web. The mutant spider is on the move, fingering its way across its web. It begins to drop.

DOWN BELOW,

the tour group has given up on the mystery of the missing spider and is following the Tour Guide. M.J. lingers for a moment, to check out her reflection in the glass of one of the tanks. By herself, looking particularly beautiful in her light. Peter stares, mesmerized, snaps up the opportunity.

PETER

Can I take your picture?
 (she turns, surprised)
 I need one with a student in it.

She hides a smile. Poses, having fun. She loves the camera.

M.J.

Don't make me ugly!

PETER

Impossible. Right there. Good!

And one more.

He snaps again but she has turned away moving to her waiting friends.

PETER (cont'd)

Thanks.

The spider continues to drop, straight down upon Peter's right hand.

Ow!

He shakes his hand, hard, flips the spider off of him.

Peter looks at his hand. There are two tiny red marks where the spider sank its fangs into his skin. Peter bends down, looks at the spider on the floor. It's dead.

Peter stands again, rubbing his hand. From across the lab, we see him, silhouetted before the huge electron microscope display screens, where swirling strands of DNA molecules combine, detach, and recombine.

EXT OSCORP INDUSTRIES DAY

A gigantic industrial complex out on Long Island. Smokestacks belch black nastiness into the air. Huge red neon letters that spell OSCORP tower over the gate. A VOICE comes over:

SIMKINS (O.S.)

General Slocum and the others have already started --

*
 *

A10 INT ENTRANCEWAY TO SUBTERRANEAN LABORATORY DAY

A10

An elevator door opens to the OsCorp R&D headquarters, a sprawling lab complex hundreds of feet below ground level. Norman Osborn quickly strides across a massive catwalk as he is briefed by SIMKINS, his aide, whose voice continues from outside:

SIMKINS

-- the inspection. Mr. Balkan and Mr. Fargas are with them.

OSBORN

Why wasn't I told about this?

SIMKINS

I don't think they wanted you to know sir.

10 INT LAB DAY

-- a work area where a strange object is mounted on a servo-pole, being worked on by TECHNICIANS. It looks like an aerodynamically perfected boogie board, with upturned fins on each side, footholds carved into the wings, and a center tube that looks like a jet engine.

Next to the device, a TECHNICIAN wears a lightweight, super-tight-fitting electronic suit. As he moves his head, arms and legs, the boogie board, pivots on the pole-- up, down, left bank, right bank.

The Pentagon delegation, a group of UNIFORMED OFFICERS and several MEN and WOMEN IN SUITS observe the device with DR. MENDEL STROMM, the project director. BALKAN and FARGAS, two exceedingly grumpy septuagenarians, look on. Fargas is in a wheelchair.

STROMM

Individual Personnel Transports are moving along splendidly.

GENERAL SLOCUM

I've seen your glider. That's not why I'm here.

Norman Osborn and Simkins enter.

OSBORN

General Slocum, good to see you again. Mr. Balkan, Mr. Fargas, always a pleasure to have our board of directors pay us a visit.

Slocum nods to Osborn, keeps talking to the delegation.

GENERAL SLOCUM

I want a progress report on Human Performance Enhancers.

ACROSS THE LAB,

they stand next to a glass-walled isolation chamber, within which several SCIENTISTS work on a bank of equipment.

STROMM

We tried vapor inhalation with rodent subjects, they showed an 800 percent increase in strength.

Fargas rolls forward.

FARGAS

800 percent? That's excellent.

GENERAL SLOCUM

Any side effects?

STROMM

In one trial, yes, the-

OSBORN

(cutting him off)

It was an aberration. All the tests since then have been successful.

GENERAL SLOCUM

(still to Stromm)

In the test that went wrong, what happened? What were the side effects?

STROMM

Violence, aggression and eventually, insanity.

GENERAL SLOCUM

What's your recommendation?

OSBORN

With the exception of Dr. Stromm, our entire staff has certified the product ready for human testing.

STROMM

We need to take the whole line back to formula.

OSBORN

Back to formula?!

Back to Stromm. He could kill him with his bare hands.

GENERAL SLOCUM

Mr. Osborn, this department has missed seven consecutive delivery dates. After five and a half years of R&D the United States government has a right to expect the super-soldier you were contracted to deliver.

OSBORN

These are quantum leaps in science, gentlemen. We are unlocking the secrets of human evolution. I never said it would be cheap or fast, only groundbreaking.

GENERAL SLOCUM

I'll be frank with you, I never supported your program. We have my predecessor to thank for that.

BALKAN

The General has given the go-ahead to Quest Aerospace to build a prototype of their exoskeleton design. They test in two weeks.

GENERAL SLOCUM

If your so-called Performance Enhancers haven't had a successful human trial by that time, I will pull your funding and give it to them.

FARGAS

Norman, we are not going to lose this contract.

All eyes turn to Osborn. So what are you going to do about that?

11 EXT PARKER HOUSE LATE DAY

11

The Parker house sits indistinguishable among other lower middle income houses on a cozy Franklin street.

12 INT PARKER HOUSE - LIVING ROOM/KITCHEN AREA LATE DAY 12

BEN PARKER, a kindly man in his sixties, is changing a light bulb, standing on a chair, reaching high, stretching precariously. MAY PARKER, a frail woman the same age as Ben, moves into the doorway to the kitchen. *

AUNT MAY

Why aren't you using a ladder, you'll fall and break your neck. Wait for Peter to do that.

19 19

UNCLE BEN

(the light bulb in, the light comes on)

"God said let there be light." Voila, 80 soft glowin' watts of it.

Starts getting down, still holding burned out bulb.

AUNT MAY

Good boy, God'll be thrilled, just don't fall on your ass.

UNCLE BEN

I'm already on my ass. When the plant senior electrician is laid off after 35 years, what else would you call it... Of course I'm on my ass.

AUNT MAY

Hand me that bowl. The green one.

UNCLE BEN

Corporations, firin' people left and right so they can have a few billion more. What do they know about standing on a stool, screwin' in a light bulb?

AUNT MAY

Ben, you'll get another job somewhere.

UNCLE BEN

(gesturing to paper - moves to dining room, sits)

Well, lets see.

(reading from paper)

Computer analyst, computer designer, computer engineer, computer...

(he sighs)

I'm 68 damn years old. I have to provide for my family.

AUNT MAY

(moves to him, embraces him, kisses his cheek)

I love you. And Peter loves you. You're the most responsible man I've ever known. We've been down and out before but somehow we survive. Where is Peter, anyway? He's late.

Aunt May starts for the kitchen as the front door opens.
Uncle Ben quickly flips the paper away from the want ads.

UNCLE BEN

Here he is.

AUNT MAY

Just in time for dinner.

UNCLE BEN

How was the field trip?

PETER

... don't feel well... gonna go to sleep...

AUNT MAY

(moves to table)

You won't have a bite?

Peter looks at her, surprised, is she psychic?

PETER

(staggering upstairs)

... no thanks... had a bite.

UNCLE BEN

Did you get some good pictures Peter?

PETER

... gotta crash... everything's fine...

His bedroom door SLAMS.

UNCLE BEN

What's that all about?

AUNT MAY

(moving toward the base of the stairs)

He's a teenager.

UNCLE BEN

He's depressed.

AUNT MAY

He's a teenager.

UNCLE BEN

I better go up.

AUNT MAY

Stay put. He'll let us know if he needs help.

13 INT PETER'S BEDROOM LATE DAY 13

Peter drops to his knees in his bedroom and clutches his abdomen in pain.

PETER

(gasping)

Help...

He falls to the floor, writhing in agony. He looks at the spot the spider bit, which is now completely red and swollen.

Drenched in sweat, he starts to shake uncontrollably with chills, trembling violently, face pale, eyes black and sunken, teeth chattering. His eyes roll up into the back of his head and he passes out. Under the lids, his eyes flicker crazily.

A14 EXT PARKER HOUSE DAY A14

Morning of a new day. A very new day.

14 INT PETER'S BEDROOM DAY 14

Peter wakes up, morning sunlight streaming through his window. He hasn't moved from the position he collapsed into on the floor. But as he orients himself, he seems to feel better. Carefully, he stretches his legs, takes a few deep breaths.

Definitely better. He sees the alarm clock. He's late. He grabs his glasses. Puts them on -- -- and walks right into his chair, stumbling to the floor.

He gets up, puts his glasses on again. Looks into a mirror on the wall. He squints, everything's fuzzy now. He takes them off, it's 20/20. He tries once more -- on, off. He can see.

PETER

Weird.

He shrugs and takes off his tee shirt. He walks away from the mirror. Hold on the empty mirror, then:

Peter jumps back in front of it, aghast. His chest is that of a Greek god. Nothing overdone, not a body builder's chest, just a perfect one. Peter tries something, flexes his pecs. They jump like cheerleaders.

Peter SCREAMS.

He checks out his body. Incredible. Puny Parker no more. There's a KNOCK at his bedroom door.

AUNT MAY (O.S.)

Peter? Are you alright?

PETER

Fine! I'm fine. Just fine!

AUNT MAY (O.S.)

Any better this morning? Any change?

Peter tosses his glasses in the trash can.

PETER

Change! Yes! Yes... big change!

He turns to grab his clothes. Through the window sees M.J. in her bedroom finishing brushing her hair. She picks up a purse and darts out of view.

Peter throws on his shirt and moves quickly out his door.

16 INT KITCHEN DAY

16

Peter comes bounding down the stairs and leaps over the bannister, landing with acrobatic grace behind Uncle Ben. He sees the breakfast Aunt May has prepared on the table, goes for it, eats what he can get as he grabs his backpack.

PETER

Hi. Gotta go.

UNCLE BEN

We thought you were sick.

PETER

(mouthful of food)
I was. I got better.

AUNT MAY

Sit down dear.

PETER

Can't. See you later.

UNCLE BEN

Don't forget, we're painting the kitchen today. Home right after school, right?

PETER

Sure thing, Uncle Ben, don't start without me.

He's out the door, full of energy, hoping to meet up with M.J. *

AUNT MAY *

What was that about? *

UNCLE BEN *

He ate my bacon. *

17 EXT M.J.'S HOUSE DAY

17 *

Peter comes out his front door just as M.J. leaves hers. Her father, MR. WATSON, a hungover guy of forty or so, SHOUTS after her. Mrs. Watson behind him.

MR. WATSON

I don't care what your mother said.
It's not okay with me. You're trash.
You'll always be trash. Just like her.

M.J.

I have to go to school.

MR. WATSON

Who's stopping ya?

MRS. WATSON

Leave her alone.

M.J. runs to the sidewalk, holding back tears.

Peter hurries after M.J.

18 EXT ANOTHER STREET DAY

Peter paces her, on the opposite side of the street. She doesn't see him.

PETER

Talk to her... talk to her...

But he doesn't, because he notices M.J. is wiping away tears.

A HORN honks and a car full of her girlfriends pulls up next to her. Peter watches as M.J.'s face transforms, she puts on a mask of happiness and jumps in.

Peter watches as the car ROARS away. She eludes him again.

Peter runs, top speed, chasing the bus again. He reaches out, to the side of it, to pound on it, get them to stop.

His hand touches a "GO WILDCATS!" school banner that's pinned on the side of the bus. But as the bus accelerates, his hand sticks, tears the banner right off the bus.

What the hell? He tries to unstick his hand from the banner, but every time he frees one hand it sticks to the other. He tries everything. Wrestles with it, wads it into a ball to throw it. Nothing doing. Frustrated, he bends down, puts a foot on the banner and stands, thus freeing his hands.

He looks at his hands, confused but happy to be free of the banner. He takes a step and quickly learns otherwise. The banner is stuck to his foot. He tries to shake it free, but his feet get tangled in the banner and he crashes to the ground.

24 INT CAFETERIA DAY

24

Peter approaches a table with an absurdly overladen tray of food. He sits. M.J. moves past him on her way to her group. As she passes, she slips, her feet fly out under her. She's about to crash hard.

Peter's spider-reflexes are at work and he moves - lightning speed - up and out in front of her, catching her tray with his left hand, and dropping his right shoulder just enough for her to grab onto. It's one of the most graceful moves we've ever seen.

She regains her balance, looks at him, impressed.

M.J.

Wow. Great reflexes!

Peter shrugs, freaked out, he can't believe he did it either. She takes her tray back from him.

M.J. (cont'd)

Thanks.

PETER

No problem.

M.J.

Hey, you have blue eyes. I never noticed without your glasses. You just get contacts?

PETER

Uh-huh.

She waits for more. Nothing comes.

M.J.

Well, see ya.

He blew it again.

She turns and walks off, across the cafeteria. She looks back over her shoulder, smiles--

--and then sits at a crowded, popular table, right next to Flash Thompson and her girlfriends.

Peter sits back at his table. He begins to eat. Actually he begins to chow. Thirsty, he sets his fork down. But it sticks to his hand.

He tries to pull it free with the other hand, but a long gooey strand stretches from his hand to the fork. It dangles. Peter tries to separate fork from strand. Nothing doing.

He tries harder. ANOTHER STRAND shoots out, from his other hand. This one flies out, to the table across from him, and SMACKS onto a GIRL's tray. She doesn't notice, as she's talking to the FRIEND on her right, and wouldn't touch that gross food anyway.

Shocked, Peter stands up and backs away, whipping his arm back, trying to pull free of the strand. But his movement yanks the girl's tray off the table, sending it flying toward Peter, who ducks, and it sails over his head.

Finally, the strand comes free. Relieved, Peter turns --

-- and sees Flash Thompson wearing the girl's lunch. M.J. is covering her mouth, laughing at Flash, but trying to hide it. Peter swallows, and it's one of those swallows you can actually hear.

FLASH

Parker?!

(have you gone insane?)

Horrified, Peter turns and hurries out of the cafeteria.

25 INT HALLWAY DAY

Just outside the door of the cafeteria, Peter stops next to a row of lockers, breathing hard, surreptitiously checking out the undersides of his wrists, trying to figure out what's going on.

For the first time, he notices two almost invisible slits in his skin, one on each wrist. Those were not there yesterday. He drops his arms and pulls his shirt sleeves down over his wrists as far as he can. 19

Suddenly, his features jolt as he's slammed with the strangest feeling he's ever had. He doesn't know it yet, but -- has kicked in. Everything and everyone surrounding him slows to a crawl and it is as if he is suddenly seeing outside himself -- 360 degree peripheral vision.

And what he sees in back of him is a FIST, Flash Thompson's fist, closing in on the back of Peter's head in slow motion. As quickly as it turned on the Spider-Sense switches off and

BACK IN REAL TIME,

Peter whips around and darts to the side, a split-second ahead of Flash Thompson's thrown punch, which BANGS into a locker where Peter was standing.

FLASH

Think you're pretty funny, don't you, Freak?!

M.J.

(running in)
It was an accident!

PETER

I'm sorry. It really was.

FLASH

My fist breaking your teeth, that's the accident.

Two of Flash's cronies close the classroom doors on either side of the hall, to block the view of the teachers within.

PETER

I don't want to fight you, Flash.

FLASH

I wouldn't want to fight me neither.

A crowd forms around them. Flash takes two more swings, but again Peter evades them -- and fast. Flash is puzzled.

Sensing an attack from behind, Peter suddenly ducks. One of Flash's cronies, who was sneaking up on him, is left grabbing air. Peter stands, flips the guy off his back.

A crowd forms to watch. Harry Osborn, coming down the hall from the other direction, joins them.

Enraged, Flash ROARS and lunges at Peter. Peter ducks one, two, three, four punches, never even moving his feet, just darting his torso around so fast he creates a motion blur.

Harry, impressed, gives a look to the person standing next to him, who happens to be M.J. Harry turns back to the fight, then does a double take back at M.J. She returns the look.

M.J.

Harry, please help him.

HARRY

Which one?

19

Flash lunges at Peter. Peter throws a punch that lands solidly on Flash's jaw and sends him sailing back against the lockers, hard. He slumps to the floor, unconscious.

CRONY

Jesus Parker, you knocked him out!

Peter GASPS, shocked at his own strength, but thrilled. A STUDENT arrives on the scene, steps forward for a better view.

STUDENT

(motioning toward unconscious Flash)

Parker did that? Yeah right.

Flash MOANS, lifts his head up revealing a face covered in blood. The crowd GROANS. A few kids go to Flash, suddenly a sympathetic figure.

Peter looks at Flash's battered face, then to his hands. He starts to back away, aware and terrified of his newfound strength. He turns on his heels and takes off, down the hall.

A26 EXT. STREET DAY

A26

Peter is walking along, looking down at the fading spider bite. What's happening to me?

26 EXT. ALLEY DAY

26

He turns, sees --

-- a glorious spiderweb that's been spun between a dumpster and the alley wall, the sun glinting off its fresh strands.

Peter looks around. He's alone. He reaches out to the alley wall and as his fingers draw close as tiny, microscopic hairs leap out of his pores and cling to the wall.

WE GO IN SUPERTIGHT ON HIS FINGERTIPS

Slowly, tentatively, Peter begins to walk up the wall, his hands clinging like suction cups.

A27 EXT. ROOFTOPS DAY

A27

Peter leaps with abandonment, over alleyways from rooftop to rooftop.

A27 EXT. ROOFTOPS DAY

A27

Peter leaps with abandonment, over alleyways from rooftop to rooftop.

27 EXT ROOFTOP DAY

27

He pulls up short at one rooftop. It is too far to the next one. He looks down at his wrist, sees the narrow slits. Gets an idea. He turns, points his wrist at a taller building across the alley.

He wiggles his wrist, tries to get the goop to spray out. But it doesn't come. He makes a fist. Nothing. He closes his thumb and little finger together. Nothing. He rotates his hand so the palm faces up, extends all five fingers, and brings his ring and middle fingers toward his palm, together.

THWIP!

A single strand of webbing shoots out from his wrist, straight up. Peter frowns, tries to direct it more. This time the webbing flies across the alley and sticks to the side of the other building.

Peter tugs on it. It's tough. He pulls harder. Can't break it. He wraps one hand around it, double strength, closes his eyes, mutters a prayer --

-- and jumps off the roof. He sails through the air, comes in for a landing on the side of the other building -- SPLAT!

28 INT PARKER KITCHEN NIGHT

28

Peter comes into the kitchen at home, late, exhausted, confused. He sniffs the air, smells something funny.

He touches the wall, comes up with paint on his fingers, and notices the buckets and drop cloth folded in the corner of the room. He sees a note on the ladder:

"Meatloaf and vegetables in the oven.
Cherry pie on the shelf. We've gone to play bridge at the Anderson's."

PETER

Ah, shoot...

A SHOUT from next door distracts him. He goes to the window.

THROUGH THE WINDOW,

he can see M.J.'s house, just across the narrow driveway. He can see silhouettes moving in their windows, a man, a woman, and a teenager, SHOUTING at one another.

29 EXT M.J.'S HOUSE NIGHT

29

Outside, M.J. BANGS through her screen door and walks into her postage-stamp back yard, trying to ignore the chaos inside that house. Inside her house.

She's angry, ready to cry, yet able to hold it back. She turns and SEES Peter standing in his yard, other side of the fence. He's caught watching her.

PETER

(embarrassed)

Oh. Hi.

M.J.

Were you listening to that?

PETER

(rattled)

No! Yeah! I heard something, but wasn't listening. To what?

M.J.

I guess you can always hear us. *

PETER

No. I was just taking out the trash. *

M.J.

You always do your chores, don't you Peter? *

PETER

Well...

M.J.

I'm sorry we do that all the time. Your aunt and uncle never scream. *

PETER

Oh, they can scream pretty good, y'know.

M.J.

So... where to after you graduate? *

PETER

I thought I'd go into the city, get a job as a photographer, work my way through college. What about you? *

M.J.

Headed for the city, too. I can't wait to get out of here. I thought I'd... Oh, I don't know...

PETER

Try me.

M.J.

I want to... act... on stage. Be an actress.

PETER

Hey, that's great, you were really awesome in all the school plays, Mary Jane.

M.J.

Really?

PETER

Yeah. I cried like a baby when you played Cinderella.

M.J.

Peter, that was in first grade.

PETER

Well, even so, you know how sometimes you can know something, like what's going to be. Like feel what's around you, what's coming?

M.J.

Sometimes.

PETER

And you can just see things coming that aren't exactly there, but you just believe.

M.J.

What do you see coming for you?

PETER

I'm not sure, but it feels like something I never felt before, whatever it is.

M.J.

And what for me?

19

PETER

You? You're...why, you're gonna... light up Broadway.

Silence between them.

M.J.

Y'know, you're taller than you look.

PETER

I hunch.

She reaches out, puts her hands on his biceps. Wow! She straightens him up.

M.J.

Don't. Hunch.

His heart is going a million miles an hour.

Suddenly we're interrupted by loud shouting again from M.J.'s house. A horn honks.

In the driveway, Flash in his new car. M.J. peers around the corner of the house.

FLASH

Hey M.J. Come take a ride in my birthday present?

She's torn, turns back to Peter.

M.J.

Thanks, Pete. I gotta go.

She grins, waves and goes.

Peter watches as Flash shows the car to M.J., oohs and aahs.
Flash puts down the top. They hop inside and SQUEAL away, she laughs, her hair blowing in the wind.

Peter watches the car disappear. Looks downcast. He thinks a moment, then raises his arm and makes a muscle. A GREAT, BIG MUSCLE. Lowers his arm. So what?

31 INT PETER'S BEDROOM NIGHT

31

His bulletin board with snapshots he's taken at school events and of his Aunt and Uncle. A framed PHOTO OF HIM AS A 4 YEAR OLD WITH HIS MOTHER AND FATHER.

31

A newspaper CRINKLES open to a big ad for used cars. Peter looks at them wistfully. He turns the page, sees another ad:

*Attention Amateur Wrestlers!
THREE THOUSAND DOLLARS
For just three minutes in the ring!
Colorful Characters a MUST!*

Peter RIPS the ad from the paper. He has a plan. As he contemplates it, we FEATURE behind him two other snapshots: M.J. at the museum - one posing, the other of her walking away.

32 INT PETER'S BEDROOM NIGHT

On a sketch pad, Peter's hand draws the outline of a human figure and various costume possibilities.

He draws a pair of wings on the figure.

PETER

A spider with wings?

19

He crumples it up, starts over. He tries antennae, hates it, crumples that up too.

He draws some web-type lines over the face and arms, draws the eyes. Large, jack o'lantern ovals, with upturned edges.

33 INT PETER'S BEDROOM NIGHT

33

Two empty glass bottles stand on a bookcase on the far side of Peter's bedroom. SPLAT! A web strand fires toward them, misses by a mile.

Peter, sitting on the opposite side of the room, frowns and tries again. SPLAT! Another wild miss. He looks down at his wrists, thinking.

A34 INT. HALLWAY NIGHT

A34

Aunt May at his door with a bunch of laundry. She knocks

AUNT MAY

Peter? What's going on there?

PETER

(opens door a crack, peeks out)
Exercising... not dressed, Aunt May.

AUNT MAY

Well, don't catch a cold.

B34 INT. PETER'S BEDROOM NIGHT

B34

B34 CONTINUED:

B34

He closes the door revealing the room is full of webs. He decides to make the web shooter. Takes a pad, sketches it.

34 ANOTHER DAY

34 *

Sparks fly. Peter has dismantled several Zippo lighters, watches, and assorted old jewelry and is silver-soldering them back together in a new way. He picks one up, blows on the solder. Happens to glance out the window -- sees M.J.'s silhouette. She's dancing, acting, being free.

35 LATER, IN THE BEDROOM, NIGHT

Peter picks up the finished contraption and puts it around his wrist, right over his biological spinnerets.

He turns his chair, aims his wrist across the room, now with the bracelet. He takes aim and -- -- SPLAT! Scores a direct hit on a can of Jolt Cola on the nightstand. He spins around, fast, in the chair, and fires a web under his arm, as if snuck up on from behind.

SMACK! Hits a plaster lamp, snags it. Yanks it towards him, he ducks. It hits the wall. SHATTERS!

He spins again, fires a double-barreled blast at those two glass bottles. Both of them hit, sending the bottles flying against the wall, where they SHATTER noisily.

Peter is thrilled. But there's a POUNDING on the wall.

UNCLE BEN (O.S.)

What are you doing in there?!

PETER

Studying! Hard.

A37 EXT OSCORP INDUSTRIES NIGHT

A37

Even at night, OsCorp's stacks spew foulness into the air.

37 INT OSCORP LAB NIGHT

37

-- the OsCorp lab, deserted, dark at this hour, except for one area. It's the glass-walled isolation chamber we saw earlier, glowing ominously in the middle of the floor. Inside it, we see a man moving furtively, anxiously, preparing for a test.

INSIDE THE TANK,

Stromm and Norman Osborn making preparations for something -- an experiment. *

STROMM

Mr. Osborn, please, I'm asking you for the last time... *

OSBORN

Don't be a coward. Risks are part of

STROMM

Let me reschedule this with a proper medical staff and a volunteer. If you just give me two weeks... *

OSBORN

In two weeks this project, this company, will be dead. Sometimes you have to do things yourself. Give me the barium phosphate. *

STROMM

Sir? *

OSBORN

Decreases nausea when the vapor hits the bloodstream. *

Stromm sighs, gives him the phosphate. *

OSBORN (CONT'D) *

Forty thousand years of human evolution and we've barely even tapped the vastness of human potential. *

(he drinks) *

To the final realization of man's true physical and intellectual capability. *

(nods to Stromm)

Osborn lies on the gurney. *

ZIP! A restraining strap is tightened across his leg. *

CLICK! A restraining buckle SNAPS across his waist. *

Dr. Mendel Stromm hits switches, a motor HUMS, and the steel gurney slides into the tank and is rotated up to vertical. *

OUTSIDE THE TANK,

Mendel Stromm pops switches and levers on the vast console outside the glass tank, making last second checks on the battery of monitors in front of him.

He grabs hold of a set of controls.

A thick, noxious green gas rises up from the petri dish. Heavy, but still lighter than air, the gas creeps up, swirling around Osborn's feet. Over his legs. Over his groin.

Creeping up his chest. Tickling over his chin.

In spite of himself, Osborn holds his breath.

The green cloud envelopes his head and he forces himself to open his mouth. He draws just a tiny bit of air -- -- and the gas seems to leap into his mouth, as if it had a mind of its own. Osborn panics, chokes on it for a moment.

But then he calms, lets himself breathe normally. The gas flows, in and out of his nostrils, we can see it move. 1g Stromm peers through the glass, monitoring every second.

OSBORN (CONT'D)

I-

And suddenly, his entire body begins to convulse, seized by spasms, his fingertips, his teeth, his eyes show only whites.

ON THE MONITORS,

his body functions go crazy. Stromm works the controls frantically. Flat line. All across the monitors. Stromm SLAMS a hand down on a red button and --

IN THE TANK,

-- giant vacuum vents in the ceiling ROAR to life, sucking the green gas up and out of the room.

Stromm races to the door, as soon as the gas is gone the security latches CLUNK open, he shoves his way inside, goes to Osborn, unstraps him, rips open his shirt and frantically begins emergency procedures.

Suddenly, behind him, he hears a SHRIEKING sound. Stromm turns as go crazy, heart rate leaping up to 226, blood pressure BANG, respiration, POW, every single graph and scale and chart registers at or near its peak BEEPING AND WHOOPING. *

INSIDE THE TANK,

Osborn's eyes pop open and he leaps to his feet, terrified. He RIPS the sensors off his chest, Stromm tries to restrain him, Osborn ROARS -- *

-- and bats Stromm across the chamber with just one arm.

But not just across the chamber, he hurls him through the glass wall of the chamber, which explodes in a shower of glass as Stromm's body hits it. Stromm keeps flying, sailing across the lab and SMASHING into a pillar on the far side, some fifty feet away.

He sags to the floor, blood pooling under his head.

Osborn staggers through the broken wall of the tank, steps across the rubble, and towers over Stromm's lifeless body. 19

FAR AWAY ACROSS THE LAB,

we see Osborn's hulking figure standing over Stromm. We keep pulling away until we see something in the foreground, two items sitting patiently, waiting for someone to finish them, to make use of them. Mounted atop two poles-- -- that strange single-winged flying platform and the remote control suit that controls it.

In the distance, Norman Osborn throws his head back and HOWLS in pain, confusion, transformation. His primitive cry echoes over --

38 INT OSBORN'S DEN DAY

38

This room in Osborn's lavish apartment. A collection of masks of all kinds. Ancient, tribal, hideous, garish masks. The essence of violent warfare. Norman sits bedraggled, dressed in yesterday's clothes. Disoriented. Dazed. *

Harry, ready for school, a backpack over his shoulder walks past the room, looks in, stops and enters. *

HARRY

Dad? What is it, Dad?

OSBORN

(blurry)

Harry.

HARRY

You look sick. What's happened?

(sincere)

I don't know...

HARRY

(kneels before him)

Where were you last night, I didn't hear you come in.

OSBORN

I was... last night I was...

HARRY

What?

OSBORN

I don't remember.

Voices come from the hallway. *

AA39 INT. HALLWAY DAY

AA39 *

Simkins briskly walks down the hallway, argues with Osborn's HOUSEMAN. *

He can't be disturbed now.

AB39 INT. OSBORN'S DEN - DAY

My father's not well, Mr. Simkins.

SIMKINS

Mr. Osborn. Dr. Stromm is dead.

OSBORN

What?

SIMKINS

His body was found this morning in the laboratory. He was murdered, sir.

HARRY

Murdered?

OSBORN

(on his feet)

What are you talking about?

SIMKINS

And the flying wing prototype, sir...

OSBORN

What about it?

SIMKINS

It's missing. It's been stolen.

Silence. Osborn shocked. He moves quickly out of the room. *

OSBORN

Take me there.

He exits. Harry remains behind for a moment, then after them. We're in the empty room. Camera lands on one of the masks. *

A39 INT. PARKER HOUSE LATE AFTERNOON

A39 *

Peter moves quickly down the stairs into

LIVING ROOM

Uncle Ben and Aunt May are there. Peter holds his shoulder bag, moves quickly to the door. Starts to open it.

(fast)

Going to the downtown library see you later.

UNCLE BEN

Hold on! I'll drive you.

PETER

It's OK. I'll take the train.

As Uncle Ben grabs a jacket and his keys.

UNCLE BEN

I said I'll drive you. Get in the car.

Peter moves out. Ben follows, turning to wink at Aunt May.

40 INT OLDSMOBILE DELTA '88 DUSK 40 *

PETER *

Thanks for the ride. *

UNCLE BEN *

Hold on a minute... We need to talk. *

PETER *

Talk about what? *

UNCLE BEN *

You're not the same guy lately. *
Fights in school, shirking your * chores, you barely say a word to me or * your aunt -- what's the story? *

Peter unconsciously pulls his sleeves down over his wrists. *
He just can't tell him. *

PETER *

There's no story. *

UNCLE BEN *

You're changing, and that's normal. *
This is the age when a man becomes the * man he's going to be for the rest of * his life. Just be careful who you * change into. Okay? *

PETER *

I feel all this, all this power, but I * don't know what it means, or how to * control it, or what I'm supposed to do * with it, even. *

UNCLE BEN *

You'll figure it out. You're one * smart cookie, always have been. *

But knowledge is power. And with great power comes great responsibility. Don't ever forget that.

PETER

Yeah, yeah, I know all that, it's not what I'm talking about. You wouldn't understand.

UNCLE BEN

Wanna bet? When I was your age I went through exactly the same things.

PETER

No you didn't, that's my whole point. It's just possible that something unique is happening to me, isn't it?

UNCLE BEN

Believe it or not, it passes. You grow out of it.

PETER

I'm not gonna grow... just drop it, I'll figure it out myself.

UNCLE BEN

Look, if you won't give me so much as a clue, I can't help you.

PETER

I didn't ask for help.

UNCLE BEN

I know I'm not your father, Peter...

PETER

Then stop pretending to be.

There are some things you say that you wish you could pluck right back out of the air. This is one of them. And it's too late.

Uncle Ben's feelings are deeply hurt. He looks away.

UNCLE BEN

I'll pick you up on this corner at nine o'clock.

Peter wants to say something. But can't.

ON THE STREET,

Peter climbs out of the car, holding a brown paper bag, and closes the door. He starts up the steps of the library and watches as the Oldsmobile pulls out into traffic.

PETER

(to the disappearing car)
I'm sorry.

He turns around, goes back down the steps of the library and heads off in the other direction. A deafening ROAR comes over and --

The crowd goes wild as BONE SAW McGRAW, six feet nine if he's an inch, three hundred pounds of pure muscle, climbs to the top turnbuckle. He leaps and delivers a crushing flying elbow to his opponent's chest.

Peter grimaces.

No, no, I know.

B42 INT. ARENA - NIGHT

B42

Bonesaw pulverizes a new victim, CONTESTANT #2. He hurls him into the ropes, sending him careening back to the middle of the ring. Bonesaw grabs him, chucks him into the stands.

The crowd goes nuts. Bonesaw ROARS with rage. A HECKLER rises in his seat.

HECKLER

Hey Bonesaw! You big fake! You suck!

Bonesaw's eyes zero on the Heckler. He balls up his fists, GROWLS, leaps from the ring.

Bonesaw pushes his way through the crowd. The Heckler's eyes go wide as Bonesaw bears down on him, grabs him by the throat, pops him one.

Bonesaw grabs his folding chair, starts to make his way back to the ring, mumbling as he goes.

BONESAW

Fake my ass.

Bonesaw drags the chair toward the ring, finds CONTESTANT #2 trying to crawl away. CONTESTANT #2 looks up just as Bonesaw rears back, WHACKS him across the face with the chair.

That's it for #2. He's out. The crowd howls.

RING ANNOUNCER (O.S.)

"Are you ready for more?"

The crowd demands more.

Bonesaw climbs back into the ring, sits on a stool in his corner. His bikini clad ring maidens, THE BONETTES, are quick to sponge him off, give him water, massage him.

(louder)

"I said, are we ready for more?!"

Bonesaw's had enough pampering, rises, flexes, whips the crowd into a frenzy. *

The Human Spider? That's it? That's the best you got? *

SPIDER-MAN (O.S.) *

The Ring Announcer huffs. *

RING ANNOUNCER *

Nah, you gotta jazz it up a little. (back into microphone) *

The curtain opens, spotlights search through the crowd, swing to the top of the ramp where we find Spider-Man partially hidden by a black scrim. *

RING ANNOUNCER (CONT'D) *

...the terrifying...the deadly!...THE AMAZING!!... *

The scrim starts to rise. *

RING ANNOUNCER (CONT'D) *

SPIDER-MAN
(to Ring Announcer)
That's "The Human Spider."

RING ANNOUNCER
Get out there dipstick.

A PA gives Spider-Man a shove. He takes in the arena, the crowd for the first time. He's frozen, paralyzed by the spectacle before him.

Spider-Man cautiously makes his way toward the ring. The Bonettes wait like hungry wolves on the ramp. They mercilessly heckle him as he goes, feel his muscles, taunt him, egg on the crowd to do the same.

A gurney with CONTEST #2, groaning in agony, wheels by.

CONTESTANT #2
I can't feel my legs...I can't feel my legs...

Spider-Man watches them wheel him away, cautiously continues. He crawls into the ring, looks around. All of a sudden--

CROWD CAGE! CAGE! CAGE!

Spider-Man scans the crowd. Cage?

WIDE SHOT

A flat structure with metal bars drops from the ceiling. Its sides fold in, form a cage which sets down on the ring.

RING ANNOUNCER (O.S.)
Will the guards please lock the cage doors!

CLANG!! Stage Hands wrap huge metal chains around the corners of the cage, lock in the combatants.

SPIDER-MAN
Hey, wait a minute...

Spider-Man tests the cage.

SPIDER-MAN (CONT'D)
This thing's locked.

BONESAW (O.S.)

Freak show!

Spider-Man turns around, sees Bonesaw standing center ring.

BONESAW (CONT'D)

You're going nowhere! I've got you for three minutes...three minutes of playtime with Bonesaw.

Spider-Man flattens himself against the bars.

SPIDER-MAN

What am I doing here?

Bonesaw rushes Spider-Man, lunges at him. Spider-Man leaps out of frame. Bonesaw crashes into the cage wall, bounces off, crumples to the ground. He looks up, sees Spider-Man clinging to the top of the cage.

The Heckler, bloody faced and back in his chair, is shocked.

Bonesaw gets up, looks at Spider-Man.

BONESAW

What do you think you're doing?

SPIDER-MAN

Staying away from you for three minutes.

Bonesaw's furious, leaps--

--but so does Spider-Man, across the cage, somersaulting to the opposite side. He clings there, drops to the ground.

CROWD

Yeahhhhhh!!! Go Spider-Man!!!!

Go Spider-Man? He looks around, scans the cheering crowd.
Turns back in time to see Bonesaw about to grab him. He leaps-- --does a one-handed hand stand on Bonesaw's head. He grins, confidence growing, fast.

SPIDER-MAN

Not a bad costume, what is that, Spandex? I used Lycra for mine and it itches like crazy.

Bonesaw swats him down, grabs his leg.

BONESAW

I got you now insect!

Bonesaw thrashes him about, pitches him against the cage.
Spider-Man falls to the ground.

SPIDER-MAN

Owww.

Bonesaw drags him out of frame.

You know, technically it's arachnid.

A shadow falls upon Spider-Man. He looks up, sees Bonesaw flying at him, prostrate, with a flying elbow. Spider-Man's eyes go wide. He flips his feet up, just in time to place them on Bonesaw's chest, kicking him into the cage.

Bonesaw slumps to the mat, knocked cold. The crowd freaks out. Flashbulbs pop.

CROWD

Spider-Man! Spider-Man! Spider-Man!

Spider-Man, looks around the arena, raises his arms, triumphant.

SPIDER-MAN

Ahhhh... show biz.

42 INT ARENA OFFICES NIGHT 42

The administrative offices, upstairs at the arena. The PROMOTER puts a single hundred dollar bill into Spider-Man's palm (Peter is still wearing the costume).

PROMOTER

Now get outta here.

SPIDER-MAN

A hundred bucks? The ad said three thousand!

PROMOTER

Check it again, webhead. It said three grand for three minutes. You pinned him in two. For that I'll give you a hundred, and you're lucky to get it. You made my best fighter look like a girl out there.

42

Enraged, Spider-Man grabs the guy by the shirt and pulls him closer. A side of Peter Parker we've never seen before.

SPIDER-MAN

I need that money!

PROMOTER

I missed the part where this is my problem.

Spider-Man stares at him for a long moment, burning with rage, he wants to bust this guy right in the nose --

-- but he turns and leaves instead, passing a squirrelly-looking GUY on the way in, his hair dyed platinum blonde. 19

43 INT HALLWAY NIGHT

43

Spider-Man walks away down the corridor, clutching the lousy hundred dollar bill, muttering under his breath. He's nearly to the elevator when he hears a SHOUT from behind him.

PROMOTER

Hey! What the hell do you-

He turns, as the door to the Promoter's office BANGS open hard, shattering the glass, and the squirrelly-looking guy races out, clutching a canvas bag. He is a THIEF.

PROMOTER (cont'd)

Help! That guy stole the gate, he's got my money!

A SECURITY GUARD approaches from one end of the corridor. The elevator behind Spider-Man DINGS, its doors start to open, and the Thief takes off down the hallway toward it.

SECURITY GUARD

Hey, you! Stop that guy!

Spider-Man looks up, at the Thief racing straight at him, at the Security Guard giving chase, at the opening elevator behind him. He thinks, debates -- -- and takes a step back. The Thief races right past him and into the elevator.

THIEF

SECURITY GUARD

What the hell's the matter with you?!
You just let him go!

The Promoter comes rushing up out of the office, a large red welt growing on his cheek.

PROMOTER

You coulda taken that guy apart! Now he's gonna get away with my money!

SPIDER-MAN

I missed the part where this is my problem.

19

He turns and walks away, down the corridor.

44 EXT NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY NIGHT

44

As night falls, Peter walks down the street toward the library, dressed in street clothes again. He looks around for Uncle Ben's car. *

Peter stands on the corner where Ben said he'd pick him up. Looks to the left, to the right. Not there yet.

A POLICE CAR races by him, SIREN wailing, and heads for the far corner. We hear an AMBULANCE'S SIREN in the BG. *

He takes an interest, moves across the street. As he walks, his brow furrows, two and two coming together in his mind in a bad way. *

He walks faster. And faster. He elbows his way through the back of the swelling crowd. Then the middle. As a desperate conviction grows in his mind, he thrashes, breaking through the front of the crowd and looking down at the ground --

-- where police officers stand over a body. It's Uncle Ben! *

UNCLE BEN!!

He lunges forward, but COPS stop him, pulling him back.

COP 1

Hang on, hang on!

PETER

My uncle! That's my uncle!

COP 2

That's not gonna help him!

PETER

What happened?!

COP 1

Carjacker. He's been shot.

Frantic, Peter tries to reach his uncle.

COP 2

Hold on, kid! You can't help the guy.

PETER

The guy? He's not the guy! He's my uncle.

He pushes in, moves to Ben, kneels, takes his head into his lap.

PETER (CONT'D)

Uncle Ben! Uncle Ben! It's me,
Peter!

19

Ben opens his eyes, his mouth forms a smile, then the word
"Pete." He dies. Peter cries, holding him. Sirens continue in the BG.

Behind him, a THIRD COP turns around suddenly, radio in hand. *

COP 3

They got the shooter! He's headed south on Fifth Avenue!

Very close on Peter -- listens intently, stoney-faced. *

45 EXT A DARK ALLEY NIGHT

45

An exaggerated shadow falls on the brick wall of an alley. A man tears off his clothes, violently. The shadow grows bigger as the man starts to run, suddenly the shadow leaps, high into the air, sailing toward the building right in front of us.

The costume's still not right and he's not wearing a mask (or face paint), but make no mistake, this is truly THE AMAZING SPIDER-MAN. He climbs straight up the building. We climb with him, rising higher and higher until we burst out over the roof's edge.

A46 Spider-Man jumps backwards, grabbing a flag pole, swinging on A46 it, allowing his momentum to hurl him to the next building, which he scales quickly.

B46 ON THE ROOF,

B46

he scans the horizon. He sees a cluster of police lights, screaming down Fifth Avenue in pursuit. Spider-Man's right arm rises, palm up.

THWIP!

A silver strand of web fluid shoots out across the street. Spider-Man wraps his hands around it and leaps.

46 We leap with him, swinging out over the city, held aloft by the tensile strength of the web. We plummet down, in a graceful, terrifying arc, and as the ground races up toward us, Spider-Man's left hand rises -- THWIP! 46

Another web strand rockets out into the night, the web-slinger shifts his weight to the second strand, abandoning the first, pulling himself back up in a graceful arc that leads him out into the avenue.

Well, above the avenue anyway, he's now swinging along directly above the chase, which is below him.

DOWN ON THE STREET,

Uncle Ben's Oldsmobile SCREECHES around a corner and SMASHES through a row of newspaper boxes. Three police cars follow, not far behind.

Above, Spider-Man follows, unseen. He webs -- left, right, left, moving faster than the police cars, and THUMPS onto the roof of the Oldsmobile.

INSIDE THE CAR,

Spider-Man's fist SLAMS through the roof of the car and grabs hold of the Carjacker's face.

ON THE STREET,

the car swerves, bumps, scrapes through traffic. Cars SMASH into one another as it careens through an intersection.

GUNSHOTS erupt through the roof of the car, fired from within, missing Spider-Man by inches. He leaps off the roof, on top of a speeding truck.

ON TOP OF THE TRUCK,

Spider-Man stands up. Eyes on the Oldsmobile, he sees something else.

B46 CONTINUED:

B46

A low bridge! Stretching straight across the street, right about at chest level for Spidey.

He triple somersaults, up, over the bridge, and lands on the roof of the truck again. The truck starts to slow, so he leaps again, onto the roof of the Oldsmobile.

INSIDE THE OLDSMOBILE,

Spidey lands right in front of us, staring through the windshield and then smashing a fist through the windshield, spiderwebbing it.

47 EXT MARINE BATTERY BUILDING NIGHT 47

The Carjacker loses vision and control, the Oldsmobile SMASHES through the gates of a creepy-looking building near the East River, Spider-Man still on its hood.

The car SCREECHES toward the front door of the building, Spidey sees it coming, knows he'll be crushed, so he leaps, up, out of sight.

FROM UP HIGH,

we see the Oldsmobile crash through and barrel into the building. A second later, the police cars race up, radios SQUAWKING.

The camera tilts up to reveal Spider-Man on the wall above them, clinging there. The police cars pulsating light reveals him, fades and Spider-Man is lost in the darkness. When the light again sweeps by, he is gone.

48 INT MARINE BATTERY BUILDING NIGHT 48

In a far corner of the building floor, the Carjacker cowers with his gun. The sweeping search light from the police boat, through the dirty, leaded windows, reveals only his outline.

Spider-Man descends, upside-down, from a web strand. He rotates, lands softly on his feet behind the Carjacker.

The Carjacker whirls around, BLASTS a shot at Spider-Man. Sensing it, Spidey leaps, onto the nearest wall. The shot SMACKS into the wall where he was.

The Carjacker, whom Spider-Man sees only as a silhouette, starts BLASTING at him, as Spidey leaps from wall to ceiling to wall to floor, just inches ahead of the bullets.

49 IN THE STREET, 49

the Cops hear the shots. Weapons are drawn, rifles steadied. They can see figures moving inside the building.

50 IN THE MARINE BATTERY BUILDING, 50

Spider-Man does an acrobatic leap and lands on the Carjacker's arm, kicking the gun free. It SKITTERS across the cement floor as Spidey holds the guy up, curls a fist --

SPIDER-MAN

This is for the man you killed.

-- and punches the Carjacker in the jaw. The blow lifts the man right off his feet, knocks his stocking cap off, and sends him sailing into one of the unbroken windows, which SHATTERS. Spider-Man leaps into the window frame, grabs the Carjacker, pulls him to his feet.

Spotlights from outside swing around to frame the pair of combatants in the window.

CARJACKER

Don't hurt me! Give me a chance, man, give me a chance!

PETER

DID YOU GIVE HIM A CHANCE?! THE MAN YOU KILLED?! DID YOU?! ANSWER ME!

Suddenly, the Carjacker's face is revealed, brightly lit. His squirrely face. And his platinum blonde hair.

It is, God help him, the Thief who stole the money at the arena. The one Spider-Man stepped aside for.

PETER (cont'd)

No! No, not YOU!

Yes. Yes, him. Peter hurls him aside, the Thief CRASHES against a wall and falls to the floor. Peter starts to hyperventilate, trembling in horror, realizes the ghastly truth:

He failed to stop the very man who murdered his uncle.

Images flood back at him, fast:

51 INT ARENA OFFICES NIGHT (FLASHBACK)

The Security Guard, yelling at him:

Stop that guy!

52 INT ELEVATOR NIGHT (FLASHBACK) 52

The Thief, standing in the elevator, looking at him evilly as the doors close on his escape.

53 EXT ARENA NIGHT (FLASHBACK) 53

Uncle Ben's body, lying in the street.

54 INT MARINE BATTERY BUILDING NIGHT 54

Back in the building, the Thief stands up, not ten feet away from Peter. The Thief aims the gun at him. Blind with rage, Peter walks toward him. The Thief backs up. Peter advances. The Thief pulls the trigger and --

-- CLICK. Empty. The Thief backs up even further, trips --

-- and CRASHES through a window. Peter lunges forward, tries to grab him but misses, and the Thief falls fifty feet, SMASHING into a wooden dock below. Dead. The money flutters down around the body from the canvas bag.

55 OUT ON THE RIVER, 55

a police patrol boat CHUGS into view, swings a spotlight around toward Peter. They get just a glimpse of him.

COP

YOU, FREEZE! DON'T MOVE! WE'VE GOT THE PLACE COMPLETELY SURROUNDED!

*
*

The Cops raise their guns to fire, but Peter disappears from the window, headed up --

56 IN THE MARINE BATTERY BUILDING, 56

-- and by the time the rest of the lights hit the window Peter is gone. Across the building floor, a DOZEN COPS SMASH through the door, shine flashlights everywhere.

The building is empty.

57 EXT A ROOFTOP NIGHT 57

Peter, still wearing the suit but not the mask, drops his head in his hands on top of a building nearby, alone. All sound drains away, all sound except Peter's soft voice --

PETER

Uncle Ben...

57

Still with his mask off, tears run down his face.

PETER (CONT'D)

Oh God, I'm so sorry...

Pulling away, we see he's sitting on a stone gargoyle, jutting out from the roof of a lonely building, silhouetted by the full moon of the night he will never forget.

61 EXT QUEST AEROSPACE TESTING GROUNDS NIGHT

61

A bunker sits buried in the middle of nowhere, warning signs posted all around its perimeter:

PROVING GROUNDS

ABSOLUTELY NO TRESPASSING!

Rising above the signs, we see SECURITY PERSONNEL, sporting machine guns, surrounding the bunker, lit up by harsh white light.

A62 INT. BUNKER NIGHT

A62

We find a small group of military brass, headed by General Slocum, and a handful of Quest AeroSpace employees.

PROJECT COORDINATOR

And what about your commitment to OsCorp?

GENERAL SLOCUM

Norman Osborn has continuously risked our time and money to satisfy his outrageous dreams. Nothing would please me more than to put him out of business.

What's that?

PROJECT COORDINATOR

Something's headed for the BADGER.

D62 EXT. BUNKER - SAME

E62 INT. BUNKER - SAME

E62

The military brass are shocked.

GENERAL SLOCUM

What the hell was that?

They hear a faint WHINE. It grows louder, the sound of a turbine engine, working hard.

Flash is stunned, angry, he hurls it over the crowd and stalks off. Harry sees this, looks back over at Peter, still next to his father. Harry moves to console M.J.

She moves to the bed and sits beside him. Finally:

PETER

I missed him a lot today.

AUNT MAY

I know. I miss him too.
(takes his hand)
But he was there.

PETER

I just wish I hadn't --

AUNT MAY

Peter, don't start that again.

PETER

I can't help thinking about the last thing I said to him.

AUNT MAY

Stop it.

PETER

He tried to tell me something important and I threw it in his face.

AUNT MAY

You loved him. And he loved you. He never doubted the man you would grow into. How you were meant for great things. You won't disappoint him. Or me.

She waits another moment, then squeezes his hand and gets up. Moves to the door.

She leaves quietly closing the door all the way. Peter gets up, opens a dresser drawer, moves some sweaters out of the way, digs all the way to the bottom of the drawer...

We're looking through the glass doors of MOONDANCE, a seedy-looking diner downtown. Inside, we see Mary Jane Watson, wearing a hideous orange waitress uniform, being berated by a SURLY COOK. She punches a time clock, grabs a raincoat, and stalks out of there.

As the doors open, a blast of NOISE and grease washes out after her. She makes her way down the street. The guy passing her stops, checks her out. It turns out to be Peter.

Peter makes his way up a flight of steps. As he reaches for the door, it is opened by a one-armed professor, DR. CURT CONNORS. Connors carries a cage which houses a lizard.

PETER

Dr. Connors.

DR. CONNORS

You're an hour late Parker. Class is over. You've missed another session.

Connors sighs, looks at Peter. He looks like hell, tired, disheveled, bumped and bruised, his hair half-singed.

DR. CONNORS (CONT'D)

I'm sorry, Peter, you have a hell of a scientific mind, but you can't seem to get your priorities straight. You've been late six times this semester.

PETER

Professor, please let me explain...

DR. CONNORS

This is a paid internship, do you know how many freshmen applied for it?

Dr. Connors puts his hand on Peter's shoulder, starts to leave.

PETER

Dr. Connors, I need this job!

DR. CONNORS

I like you, Peter. Come see me when you grow up a little.

Dr. Connors walks away leaving Peter with his thoughts.

In short, ladies and gentlemen of the board, costs are down, revenue is up, and our stock has never been higher.

Simultaneously, they all close the leather-bound folders that were open in front of them. Balkan sits forward.

That's wonderful news, Norman.

In fact, it's the reason we're selling the company.

77 EXT TIMES SQUARE DAY

77

An enormous, multi-colored globe stands over Times Square, today the site of World Unity Festival, a festival of healing and unification.

ON THE STAGE

Macy Gray entertains the crowd with a soulful rendition of "Why Didn't You Call Me."

IN THE STREET

Peter Parker works his way through the crowd taking pictures. Through the lens he spots a YOUNG MAN reading the Daily Bugle. Peter focuses on the headline which reads--

"Big Apple Dreads Spider Bite!"

Peter lowers his camera, shakes his head.

He takes in the spectacle before him, continues working his way through the crowd taking pictures.

Giant balloons float in the air. Thousands are in attendance here, the vibe is sweetness and light.

A MOTHER buys her seven year old boy, BILLY, some cotton candy. Five stories up, a balcony on one building has been converted into buttressed by two Hercules statues, one at each corner, which appear to be holding the reviewing stand aloft.

A REVIEWING STAND,

All this under a large banner which reads "OSBORN INDUSTRIES WELCOMES YOU TO THE 3RD ANNUAL World Unity Festival."

NINE ANGRY MEN AND WOMEN, the OsCorp board of directors, sit in a row in suits and ties, chatting up other DIGNITARIES. Balkan and Fargas are smiling, but it's sorta gruesome.

Harry is fixing a UNITY DAY pin to M.J. He stands back to study her.

HARRY

Perfect. Except how come you didn't wear the black dress? I wanted to impress my father. He loves black.

M.J.

Maybe he'll be impressed, no matter what? You think I'm pretty.

HARRY

Of course I do. You're beautiful.

ANGLE ON PETER IN THE STREET,

Peter raises his camera, squeezes off a few shots.

THROUGH HIS LENS,

Peter scans the balloons, the floating streamers, comes to a Hercules statue. He tilts his camera up the statue's torso, rising up, to the balcony's edge, up past Harry and M.J., up further...

He sees Harry put his arm around M.J., leans in for a kiss. Time slows down, Harry's mouth approaches M.J.'s, the worst is about to happen, but at the last second --

-- M.J. turns, giving Harry cheek when he wanted lips.

ON THE STREET,

Peter whips the camera down, pumps a fist in the air. Hope!

Harry, his cheek turned, is looking down at the street. He sees Peter, who looks back up and sees Harry. They each see each other seeing each other. Harry, caught in the act!

ON THE REVIEWING STAND

Harry averts his gaze from Peter, puts his arm around M.J., ushers her away.

ON THE STREET

Peter's expression suddenly changes, completely, his eyes widen. We leap outside him as -- goes off, slowing everything to a crawl. Spidey P.O.V. races all around him, searching the crowd for any sign of danger, but finding nothing.

HIS SPIDER-SENSE

BACK ON THE STREET,

things return to normal speed. Peter looks around, puzzled.

ON THE REVIEWING STAND,

Harry leads M.J. through the balcony crowd, spots Balkan and Fargas, walks up to them.

HARRY (cont'd)

Have you seen my father?

The two board members share an uncomfortable look.

FARGAS

I'm not sure he'll be joining us.

Balkan and Fargas turn, hear something. So do the others around them. It's a high-pitched WHINING sound. Harry and M.J. look for the noise, make their way to the balcony edge.

ON THE STREET,

Peter is really going crazy, certain there's a problem somewhere, but not sure what it is. He looks up.

IN THE SKY, something darts in and out of the clouds, something small and very, very fast.

ON THE REVIEWING STAND,

Fargas is squinting up into the sky, at the source of the whining.

FARGAS (CONT'D)

What is that?

Balkan joins him.

BALKAN

Must be new this year.

He raises a pair of binoculars.

BALKAN (cont'd)

What the devil! Is that our wing?

IN MID-AIR,

we're flying, a first-person shot. A deranged CACKLE echoes over the whine of a jet-engine turbine.

ON THE STREET,

whatever-it-is comes through for another pass, lower this time. But it passes so fast, zigzagging through the floats, that we can't really get a handle on it.

ON THE REVIEWING STAND,

Balkan and Fargas look troubled. But the crowd APPLAUDS, all smiles. They like this bit.

IN MID-AIR,

whatever-it-is curls up into the sky, banks and hovers, turning right toward the reviewing stand.

From behind it, we see that it's a figure atop a flying thing, and the figure reaches down to his belt and detaches some kind of device, the size of a softball, with vertical bulges like those on a pumpkin. As he raises the device, we get our first look at...

THE GREEN GOBLIN!

He's clad in a form-fitting dark green suit densely layered with complicated circuitry, a suit we have seen before, in the OsCorp lab. Over his face he wears a grotesque, green demonic mask, and he has both legs astride a small flat flying wing, big enough for one -- also the one we saw in the lab.

The Goblin CACKLES, a hideous laugh that echoes over the street.

ON THE STAGE

Macy Gray, her background singers and dancers stop performing, look around. Weren't informed regarding this part of the "show."

And the crowd CHEERS! They love this guy!

The Goblin twitches and the Glider responds immediately, banking and plummeting --

-- straight down toward the reviewing stand.

The Goblin detonates the device he holds (a pumpkin bomb) and hurls it toward one of the Hercules statues.

KA-BOOM! Hercules crumbles. The reviewing stand begins to collapse, lurches lower, sways, V.I.P.s topple, M.J. is thrown forward, Harry backwards.

Debris showers the pavement below, nearly crushing terrorized CITIZENS.

ON THE STAGE

Ms. Gray's security guards rush in, cover her, escort her to safety.

ON THE STREET,

Peter elbows his way through the crowd and takes off toward the mouth of an alley.

ON THE REVIEWING STAND,

there is a shudder, a CRACK and the entire stand drops a few feet. M.J. is splayed precariously on the dangling balcony balustrades.

Harry gets to his feet, goes to her. But his weight causes the balcony to shift.

Hercules CRACKS yet again. M.J. is tossed further to the outer edge of the balcony.

THE GREEN GOBLIN

soars upward. Takes another pumpkin bomb from his pouch and hurls it.

ON THE REVIEWING STAND,

the bomb lands with a THUNK, bounces to a stop right in front of the members of the OsCorp board. The bomb WHIRS a few feet into the air, and then --

ZAP-FLASH!

It explodes in a brilliant orange, so bright and searing it irradiates half a dozen members of the board, turning them into X-ray images.

SCREAMS everywhere. They don't love this guy anymore!

The blast's concussion causes the balcony to separate yet again. Now M.J. is really in trouble.

Harry crawls over to her... blinking to get the spots from his eyes, he reaches out his hand.

M.J. reaches out her hand to him, when --

THE GREEN GOBLIN

rises up behind her, on his Glider. Malefic grin. M.J. turns to him, SHRIEKS. *

The Goblin lets out a blood-curdling CACKLE, revels in the mayhem unfolding, but cuts it short, hesitates, hearing something. He turns and swings down from a building above and (POW!) smacks right into the Goblin, knocking the villain clean off his Glider.

THE AMAZING SPIDER-MAN!

The Goblin plummets, from six stories up, except that he lands on one of the passing floats, bounces off it, makes a nifty mid-air twist --

And crashes feet first into a large tent below, which breaks his fall.

IN MID-AIR,

the Glider comes sailing down after the Goblin, as with a homing device. It SMASHES through the globe replica, which is knocked off its perch, and comes out the other side, heading for the Goblin.

SPIDER-MAN

clings to the side of a building, overlooking the chaos. His eyes zip over to --

THE REVIEWING STAND,

where M.J. is in big trouble. But then there are SCREAMS, and his eyes zip over the other way, to where the globe replica has begun to roll --

ON THE STREET

-- crushing everything in its wake. And headed straight for Little Billy, who stares in frozen shock as it heads right for him. His Mother SCREAMS.

ON THE BUILDING,

Spider-Man fires a web at a billboard high atop a nearby building.

AND SWINGS

in a huge arc. Straight for Billy. He sweeps the child up, just as the globe rolls past, stamping out parking meters like matchsticks.

THE GREEN GOBLIN

is on the ground, stuck in the tangle of the collapsed tent and surrounded by COPS, whose guns are raised.

GREEN GOBLIN (CONT'D)

I surrender! I surrender! Media violence made me do it!

The Cops hesitate, and in that moment the Goblin leaps, inhumanly, into the thick of them. They go after him, piling on, in a blizzard of flashing nightsticks.

NEARBY,

Spider-Man swings to the ground, depositing Billy in the arms of his Mother. He looks over, to where the Cops have blanketed the Goblin, fists flying.

But with a shocking burst of strength, the Goblin hurls the Cops off him, and they go flying in all directions.

Spider-Man makes a leaping run, he hand-springs, somersaults, vaults himself in the air, and lands on his feet in front of the Goblin.

GREEN GOBLIN (CONT'D)

How dare you interfere with me! What do you want?!

SPIDER-MAN

World peace. But I'll settle for your chin.

And he sends a FIST into the Goblin's chin.

The Goblin flies across the street, crashing into a brick wall. Spider-Man comes at him again, with another haymaker --

-- which the Goblin catches in one gloved hand. Stopping it.

GREEN GOBLIN

See what I did there?

And now it's his turn to throw a massive punch.

Spider-Man goes ass over elbows, smashing through an ice cream cart and into a lamppost.

The Goblin touches something on his wrist and a moment later his Glider comes whizzing down, right behind Spider-Man, who leaps up and over it at the last second.

The Goblin jumps on the Glider, CLICKS his boots into the wings, and he's off, into the sky.

IN MID-AIR,

the Goblin banks left, turns back. He hits a button and small machine guns appear from the Glider's tips.

ON THE REVIEWING STAND,

Harry reaches for M.J. but she's out of reach, still trapped on the reviewing stand. She tries to climb to safety as it sways, CRACKS like ice in springtime. Rivets POP. *

IN MID-AIR,

the Goblin FIRES at Spider-Man, raking the ground around him with bullets.

Spider-Man fires a web up to an enormous Rasta Man float. And he swings up, out of the gunfire's path, up and over the top of the float as the Goblin disappears into the sky.

FROM SPIDER-MAN'S P.O.V.

we see M.J. on the crumbling balcony, imperiled. A procession of floats hover between her and Spidey.

So Spider-Man leaps. A super jump, a tuck and roll, and he leap frogs from float to float, one, two, three. He makes his final leap for the balcony when-- *

IN MID-AIR,

The Goblin zooms in behind Spider-Man, wraps him in a bear hug and drives him into the building above the balcony. Glass and debris rain down. *

ON THE BALCONY

Harry is struck in the head by a chunk of debris. His knees buckle and he crashes to the floor, unconscious. *

IN MID-AIR

The combatants trade blows. The Goblin rears back, delivers a crushing elbow to Spidey's jaw, sending him plummeting toward the balcony. *

ON THE BALCONY

Spider-Man, glass and chunks of the building come crashing down near M.J. causing her to roll out, to the very edge. She is saved by the balustrades, which break her fall. M.J. watches as debris crumbles, falls five stories. *

Spider-Man is just about to move toward M.J. when the Goblin appears, rising up out of nowhere, HOVERING right over them. *

He whirls toward Spider-Man. A weapon HUMS up out of the Glider, points at Spider-Man.

Spidey shoots a web, it SPLATS over the Goblin's face, obscuring his vision. A laser beam BLASTS into the wall next to Spidey.

Spider-Man reaches up into the Glider and pulls out a handful of wiring from underneath the wing.

The Goblin takes off, clawing the webbing out of his face, the Glider smoking and sputtering. Safe!

No, not safe! The building ledge finally crumbles and she falls, SCREAMING!

IN MID-AIR,

Spider-Man dives down after her, straight down, trailing a web behind him. He catches M.J. just short of the street, the web pulls taut, and they bounce back up just before hitting the pavement, like at the end of a bungee jump.

They sail back up into the air, just as the balcony finally collapses behind them.

A78 EXT. COLLAPSING BALCONY

A78

Harry wakes. He's at the edge of the balcony and just then he sees Spider-Man swinging away with M.J.

AB78 EXT. STREET DAY

AB78 *

They SWOOSH by overhead. A CABBIE exits his cab, points, watches the duo swing away. *

CABBIE
What the hell's that?

CABBIE (ALT.)
Look, it's Superman. *

B78 IN MID-AIR

B78

Spidey and M.J. swing through the spectacular canyon of skyscrapers, she works up the nerve to ask him:

M.J.
Who are you?

SPIDER-MAN
You know.

M.J.
I do?

SPIDER-MAN

Your friendly neighborhood Spider-Man.

*

78 EXT. ATOP ROCKEFELLER CENTER - THE GARDENS

78

Spider-Man lands gracefully, deposits her gently on the grass, where two YOUNG LOVERS are making out on a bench.

SPIDER-MAN

Don't mind us. She needs to use the elevator?

Jaws drop. Spider-Man turns and leaps off the edge of the building, throwing in a double somersault before shooting out a web. Breathless, M.J. watches him swing away into the city.

M.J.

Spider-Man...

A80 EXT. HARRY'S APARTMENT NIGHT

A80

A tenant walks out, hails a cab.

B80 INT. HARRY APARTMENT - NIGHT

B80

The door opens. Harry enters with cell in hand. He's in a panic. Peter at window drinking a glass of milk.

HARRY

Pick up! Pick up! If somehow you get this, call me right away.

(hangs up, sees Peter - he's manic)

Pete! Oh, man, I'm glad you're here. Any word? Has she called?

PETER

Not yet. She will.

HARRY

She will? How do you know, you don't know that.

PETER

Feeling I have. You okay? How's your head?

HARRY

They patched it up, it's nothing. Where did he take her? What would he do to her? Thank God my father wasn't there. That whole scene, where'd that thing come from? What was it?

(MORE)

HARRY (cont'd)

(re Peter's glass)

What is that? Milk?

PETER

Uh huh, got milk.

HARRY

Why aren't you worried?

PETER

(remembering)

Oh. Right. I am worried.

HARRY

I've put it together. Spider-Man knows she's my girlfriend. He'll want a ransom from my father.

PETER

(cocks his head)

Really? What could he get?

The PHONE RINGS. Harry picks it up.

HARRY

Hello?

M.J. (V.O.)

(in a state of bliss)

Hi ya.

HARRY

Oh, thank God!

(to Peter)

It's her.

(to phone)

Where are you? Are you alright? Did he hurt you?

M.J. (V.O.)

Ohh, noo. He was incredible.

HARRY

He was what? What do you mean he was incredible?

Peter reacts. Smiles.

M.J. (V.O.)

Oh, I don't know. You know.

HARRY

Are you sure you're alright? Are you drugged? Where did he take you?

M.J. (V.O.)

To a beautiful roof garden.

HARRY

To a roof garden?

M.J. (V.O.)

Have you ever been there? You should go.

HARRY

No, I've never been there, listen, I'm coming over.

M.J. (V.O.)

Why?

HARRY

Because you need to tell me everything, that's why. And what did you mean by incredible?

M.J. (V.O.)

I'm going to sleep now.

HARRY

Well, then, call me in the morning. Are you sure you're feeling alright?

M.J. (V.O.)

(still blissed)
Incredible.

HARRY

STOP SAYING THAT! Call me when you wake up, we'll go for breakfast and I'll buy you something beautiful...

M.J. (V.O.)

Why?

HARRY

Because I want to, it'll make you feel better.

M.J. (V.O.)

G'night.

HARRY

Alright, g'night, get some sleep, uh, sleep tight, don't let the---

She hangs up. One of those sloppy hang ups, a good three seconds for the receiver to set down. *

HARRY (cont'd) *
(he hangs up) *
She's still a little rattled. *

Peter tips his glass of milk back, head back, finishes it to the last drop. Milk on his lip. *

PETER *
At least she's alright. *

HARRY *
Look...about M.J. I know that was a picture you didn't want to take. *

PETER *
I didn't take it. *

HARRY *
I know I should've told you about us, but you have to understand, I'm crazy about her. *

PETER *
We're friends. You didn't have to lie. *

HARRY *
I always knew you wanted her for yourself, but you never made a move. *

PETER *
I guess I didn't. *

HARRY

Look, I'm going to get some sleep.
How about you?

PETER

I think I'll look out at the skyline.
I'd like to pray for those people who died.

HARRY

What was that thing that killed them?
It happened so fast.

PETER

I don't know. But somebody has to stop it.

HARRY

Right. Well... I'll pray in the bedroom.

He hesitates, then moves into another room. Peter moves to the window and looks out at the night sky, the skyline. The terror that lurks.

81 THE DAILY BUGLE

81 has a front page picture of Spider-Man and the Green Goblin, doing battle atop the Goblin Glider, next to the headline:

TIMES SCARE!

Spider-Man, Green Goblin Terrorize City!

We tilt up from the paper to see --

INT OSBORN'S APARTMENT - ENTRY HALL DAY

-- Norman Osborn, who's been staring at the front page, standing in the still-open doorway of his apartment.

81

He's dressed in rumpled clothes from last night, he must have slept in them. He's disheveled, bags under his eyes, looks like hell.

And there's this headline. He looks back down at it, uncomprehending, searching for meaning.

ON THE FRONT PAGE,

we zip down to a box at the bottom of the page, where there's another, less prominent headline:

OsCorp Board Members Killed *

IN THE APARTMENT,

Osborn rubs his head, trying to make sense of it. He's starting to sweat. He SLAMS the door --

INT ENTRY HALL DAY

-- and staggers away, across the entry hall. Somewhere, far in the distance, he hears a faint CACKLE.

He stops, looks around. Where the hell did that come from? Frightened now, he lurches across the foyer and up the stairs.

82 INT NORMAN'S STUDY (MASK ROOM) DAY 82

Osborn enters his study, paper in hand. *

OSBORN

Somebody there? *

(looks around room, to balcony, silence) *

Of course not. *

He moves to a small table, whisky decanters. Hands shaking, pours a shot, raises it to his mouth. *

GREEN GOBLIN (O.S.)

Stop pretending, Norman...

He turns around, looks up sharply, the wobbling glass still in his hand, his face dripping, terrified. The VOICE -- mirthful, other-worldly, we've heard before, it's The Goblin. Osborn stumbles to the middle of the room. *

OSBORN

Who said that?

GREEN GOBLIN (O.S.)

(his demonic monotone)

*Don't play the innocent with me.
You've known all along.*

*
*

OSBORN

Who are you?

GREEN GOBLIN

Follow the cold shiver that's running down your spine. Look, I'm right here.

Norman turns to the mirror.

OSBORN

I don't understand.

GREEN GOBLIN

Did you think it was coincidence? So many good things... all happening for you... all for you, Norman.

OSBORN

What do you want?!

GREEN GOBLIN (O.S.)

To say what you won't... to do what you can't--

*(shows Osborn paper in mirror)
--to remove those in your way.*

OSBORN

*(holds paper, studies it)
The board members! YOU killed them?!*

GREEN GOBLIN (O.S.)

WE killed them...

OSBORN

Oh, God! My God!

GREEN GOBLIN (O.S.)

Stop mewling... You sicken me... you ooze weakness...

OSBORN

I'm not a murderer, I'm a scientist, a respectable businessman. The police.

Norman scurries over to the phone, reaches for it--

--but The Goblin beats him to it.

GREEN GOBLIN (O.S.)

(shrieking)

HYPOCRITE! LIAR!

The Goblin rears back, heaves the phone toward the balcony.
Norman watches it fly through the air, sees The Goblin, now standing on the balcony, duck as it zips past his head. The Goblin stands there, looking down on Osborn.

Now shut up and listen! Try to understand the beauty of all this.

(MORE)

YOU are now in full control of OsCorp Industries. Your greatest wish, granted by me. Say thank you.

Osborn thinks, takes everything in.

OSBORN
Hmmm. And then what?

GREEN GOBLIN (O.S.)
We'll eliminate your rivals. OsCorp will become the most powerful military supplier in history. You'll have limitless wealth. Presidents and Kings will court your favor. So don't be shy. Take what you've always wanted. Power. The weak will serve you. The world will be yours and mine. Yes. You and I, we can have a hell of a time.

Osborn lurches to his chair.

OSBORN
I suppose the damage has been done, right?

Yeah.

OSBORN
Can we do it alone?

GREEN GOBLIN (O.S.)
There's only one who could stop us.

OSBORN
(a better thought)
Or... be our greatest ally.

GREEN GOBLIN
Exactly! We need to have a little chat with you know who.

OSBORN

But how do we find him?

With that he snatches up the Bugle from the table top, looks at the front page picture of Spider-Man and the Goblin.

84 INT JAMESON'S OFFICE LATE DAY

84 *

JAMESON

(finishing the sentence)

"The Green Goblin."

JAMESON (cont'd)

You like that? Made it up myself. Ever since Spider-Man, they all gotta have a name. HOFFMAN! Call the patent office and copyright the name Green Goblin! I want a quarter every time somebody says it!

PETER

Spider-Man wasn't terrorizing the city, he was trying to save it! It's slander!

JAMESON

I resent that! Slander is spoken! In print it's libel.

He tosses his cigar over his shoulder, out the window behind him.

PETER

You don't trust anybody, that's your problem, Mr. Jameson.

Peter walks out of his office. Jameson yells after him.

JAMESON

I trust my barber! What are you, his lawyer? Let him sue me and get rich like a normal person! That's what makes this country-

His cigar flies back through the window and lands on his desk. Jameson looks at it, puzzled, turns around --

-- and THE GREEN GOBLIN SMASHES through the window frame. He grabs Jameson by the throat with one hand and scoops him up off his feet, his glider hovering over the floor of the office.

A85 INT NEWSPAPER OFFICE OUTSIDE JAMESON'S OFFICE LATE DAY A85 *

Peter's eyes pop wide as he looks into Jameson's office. Secretaries, reporters and other Bugle employees scurry about to escape the mayhem. Peter quickly ducks into the hallway.

B85 INT JAMESON'S OFFICE LATE DAY B85 *

The Goblin's grip remains firm on Jameson's throat.

GREEN GOBLIN

Who's the photographer who takes the pictures of Spider-Man?! I need to talk to him about his favorite subject. Where is he?

JAMESON

He's a free-lancer, I don't know who he is! His stuff comes in the mail.

GREEN GOBLIN

You're lying.

JAMESON

(choking)
I swear!

GREEN GOBLIN

This is your last chance!

JAMESON

Please... air... stop...

SPIDER-MAN (O.S.)

Hey.

B85 CONTINUED:

B85

The Goblin whirls. Spider-Man hangs upside-down in the window.

SPIDER-MAN (cont'd)

I wear the tights in this town.

GREEN GOBLIN

Speak of the devil.

He lets go of Jameson, who drops to the floor in a heap, gasping for air.

JAMESON

I knew it! You and Spider-Man are in this together! I knew that creep was-

THWIP! A bunch of webbing SPLATS across Jameson's mouth, shutting him up.

SPIDER-MAN

Hey Kiddo, let Mom and Dad talk for a minute, will you?

The Goblin points his glove at Spider-Man and sprays gas directly from it, into Spidey's face. Everything goes black.

85 EXT DAILY BUGLE LATE DAY

85 *

Spider-Man, unconscious, tumbles from what used to be Jameson's window and plummets toward the ground below.

Right before he meets his demise, The Green Goblin swoops in, catches Spider-Man and zooms away.

*

86 EXT MIDTOWN ROOFTOP NIGHT

86 *

Spider-Man is regaining consciousness on the roof of a tall building in midtown. The Goblin Glider nearby, the Goblin standing next to it in the shadows. Spidey tries to move.

GREEN GOBLIN

Relax.

Spider-Man struggles, drags himself to a sitting position, against an abutment. Feels like he weighs a thousand pounds.

GREEN GOBLIN (cont'd)

My hallucigen gas slowed your central nervous system to a crawl, just for a few minutes. Long enough for us to have a talk. Don't worry, I didn't remove your mask. I'll respect your privacy, for the moment anyway. Because I respect you.

SPIDER-MAN

(fighting to be alert)

Who are you? *

GREEN GOBLIN

A kindred spirit. A fellow traveler... You've changed and now you want someone to tell you what to do, who to be. And there's no one who could possibly understand... *

(leans in) *

...except me. *

Spider-Man looks down, at his hand. He can raise a few fingers, but they're trembling.

They call us freaks. But we're not less than human, we are more than human.

SPIDER-MAN

I'm not like you. You're a murderer. *

GREEN GOBLIN

Well... to each his own. I chose my path. You chose the way of the hero.
And they found you amusing for a while... the people of this city. But the one thing they love more than a hero is to see the hero fail, fall, die trying. The truth is people don't like heroes. Who wants an example you can never live up to? Take my word for it... in spite of all you've done for them, eventually they will hate you. Read the headlines. *

In spite of himself, Spider-Man is listening.

GREEN GOBLIN (cont'd)

We are who we choose to be, but a day will come when you must ask yourself, did I choose wisely -- why am I risking my life for ungrateful fools? *

SPIDER-MAN

Because it's right. *

The Goblin circles Spider-Man. *

GREEN GOBLIN

Right? Wrong? Capital R, capital W? You're young, aren't you? You believe in truth, beauty, professional athletes as role models. Well here's the real truth. There are fourteen million people in this city, and those teeming masses exist for the sole purpose of lifting a few exceptional people onto their shoulders. You, me, we are exceptional. I had problems, but I used my God given powers and poof, those problems vanished.

Spider-Man stares. He's thinking...

Imagine what we could accomplish together. What we could create.

(loving this)

OR... we could destroy, cause the deaths of countless innocents in selfish battle, again and again. And again, until we both are dead.

He summons his glider. Hops aboard. Looks at Spider-Man.

Think about it, hero.

He cackles and shoots off into the night.

96 EXT MIDTOWN BUILDING NIGHT

96

Peter leans against the wall of a midtown television studio. He's glum. He's staring at a line of newspaper vending machines across the sidewalk. Each displays the headline: "Spider-Man, Time for a Bug-Free City!"

Mary Jane Watson comes out the side door of a television studio. As it SLAMS behind her, a little too hard, she turns and looks at it, notices the sign that says "ARTISTS ONLY." She laughs bitterly to herself, starts walking away. Peter's been waiting.

PETER

Hey!

M.J.

(turns)

Hey.

PETER

How was the audition?

M.J.

How'd you know?!

PETER

The hotline. Your mom told my aunt told me. We have no secrets from each other.

M.J.

So you just came by?

PETER

I was in the neighborhood. I needed to see a friendly face. Took two buses and a cab to get in the neighborhood, but...

M.J.

They told me I need acting lessons. A soap opera told me I need acting lessons.

A light rain starts to fall.

PETER

I'll buy you a cheeseburger. Sky's the limit, up to seven dollars and eighty-four cents.

She laughs. She smiles. But:

M.J.

I'd like a cheeseburger, but I'm going to dinner with Harry. Come with us.

PETER

No thanks.

(a beat)

So how's it going? I mean, with you and, nevermind, none of my business.

*

*
*
*

M.J.

It's not? Why so interested?

PETER

I'm not, am I interested?

M.J.

You're not?

PETER

Well... why would I be?

M.J.

I don't know. Why would you be?

PETER

Y'know... just... I don't know.

She smiles.

M.J.

Sorry you won't come with us.

It's raining harder.

M.J. (CONT'D)

Gotta run.
(runs)

Disappointed yet again, confused. Did she want him to confess his love?

But he's suddenly jostled by FOUR PUNKS, walking past him from behind, bumping into him. *

PETER

'Scuse me.

They ignore him, keep walking in M.J.'s direction. Peter turns, walks away. Then turns back, furrows his brow.

97 EXT DARK STREET NIGHT

97

From high above, we see M.J. turn a corner onto a dark street. The Four Punks catch up, surround her. They stop to admire her, heckle her, she says something to them... Now they're pissed. And Punk #1 goes for her purse. *

DOWN ON THE STREET,

M.J.'s no pushover, she's mixing it up with them. She shin-kicks Punk #1, elbow-jabs Punk #2, punches Punk #3 and maces Punk #4 with the cannister that dangles from her keychain.

*
*

M.J.

What are you guys, from out of town or something?

Now they're really pissed. And bigger. And there's four of them. M.J. is shoved into a wall, and Punk #1 SNICKS open a knife. It looks bleak.

Suddenly, THWIP-WRAP! all four Punks are slammed together as if lassoed, and they go flying up, out of frame.

M.J. stands, slack-jawed, staring in wonder at something we can't see. Then, suddenly, she leaps out of the way as --

-- Punk #1 comes flying back and SMASHES through a window next to where she was standing. Punk #2 SMACKS up against a brick wall, Punk #3 flies through another window and Punk #4 goes barreling into a trash can. They lie about on the ground, either unconscious or with the good sense to fake it.

M.J. walks forward, staggered, and as we come around behind her, we see what she sees.

Spider-Man stands in the shadows, breathing hard after his exertions. She looks at him, can't make him out in the inky darkness. But we get closer to him -- and he's not wearing his mask! Didn't have time to put it on.

Peter fumbles for it, pulls it from his waistband. But hesitates, knowing she can't see him fully.

PETER

You have a knack for getting in trouble.

M.J.

You have a knack for saving my ass. I think I have a superhero stalker.

She walks closer. He retreats, further into the shadows, still no mask.

PETER

I was in the neighborhood.

She stops, squints at him. She's heard that before, and recently. Does she suspect?

M.J.

You are amazing...

She's almost to him now -- so Peter pulls the mask on.

SPIDER-MAN

Some people don't think so.

M.J.
But you are.

SPIDER-MAN

Thank you.

He leaps up, onto the wall above her, clinging there upside-down. She steps up underneath him. He's right at lip height.

M.J.

Do I get to say thank you this time?

She puts her hands on his mask... and starts to lift it. Spider-Man is paralyzed, can't stop her.

SPIDER-MAN

Wait...

But she doesn't lift it all the way up. Just so his mouth is exposed. And she kisses him. That is, she kisses him, rain streaming down both their faces and over their parted lips. She pulls back. Touches his lips with her fingertips.

M.J.

That's so you'll remember where your mouth is..

She replaces the mask, tenderly. Spider-Man hesitates, then scampers up the wall and out of sight. She watches him go, eyes shining.

B99 EXT. APARTMENT BUILDING DAY

FEATURE a MOTHER, her two young sons holding on to her skirt, as she, against her will, is being forced out of the building by two FIREMEN. She fights to get back in:

MOTHER

Let me go, my baby's in there, somebody save my baby, let me go!

FIREMAN

It's too late, lady, the roof's ready to collapse.

The woman continues to struggle and scream.

ANOTHER FIREMAN reacts to something above.

FIREMAN #2

Hey! Up there! Look! It's him!

Above the crowd we SEE Spider-Man swinging his way to the burning building. He disappears inside. We BOOM DOWN to--

FIREMAN

What's he doing?

FIREMAN #2

He's crazy, he hasn't a chance.

MOTHER

Save my baby, please, please!

They wait. The building continues to burn. There is a loud CREAKING noise as the roof starts to collapse.

MOTHER (cont'd)

NOOOOOOOOOO!!!!!!

THROUGH A SMOKY, FIRE-ENCASED WINDOW, Spider-Man swings out, cradling a web-encased parcel. Behind him, a tremendous fireball. He descends towards CAMERA.

VOICES

He's alive! He's got the kid! I don't believe it!

The crowd applauds. Spider-Man drops into view, landing at the feet of the mother and her two boys. He still holds the parcel.

SPIDER-MAN

(extends baby)
Here's your baby.

MOTHER

(takes it)
Oh, God Bless you, Spider-Man. Bless you, bless you.

SPIDER-MAN

(to the boys)
You children be good. Stop playing with matches. Don't start something you can't put out.

COP (O.S.)

Don't let him get away!

A COP bursts through the crowd, draws his gun, levels it on
Spider-Man.

COP (CONT'D)

Hold it right there. You're wanted in connection--

OLD WOMAN (O.S.)

Hellllpppp!! Hellllpppp!!

Behind the COP, a YOUNG MAN raises a finger toward the building.

YOUNG MAN

Look! There's somebody else!

The crowd turns, sees an OLD WOMAN barely visible through a window dancing with fire.

The COP looks at Spider-Man, Spider-Man to the COP.

COP

I'll be here when you get back.

The COP lowers his revolver..... Spider-Man leaps away.

C99 EXT. NEARBY SMOKY ROOM DAY

C99

Spider-Man flips through a window, lands, scans the smoky room, fire leaping about. He sees what appears to be an OLD WOMAN, draped in a shawl, huddled in the corner.

SPIDER-MAN

Everything's going to be okay ma'am.

OLD WOMAN (V.O.)

Oh. Thank you sonny. You're my hero.

SUDDENLY WE HEAR:

The CACKLE!

GREEN GOBLIN (O.S.)

What's wrong with lighting up now and then?

(another CACKLE)

The "OLD WOMAN" lets the shawl fall to the ground, turns.

SPIDER-MAN

(sees Goblin through licking flame)

Goblin!

GREEN GOBLIN

(moving closer)

I thought you might be in the neighborhood.

SPIDER-MAN

YOU? You started this fire.

GREEN GOBLIN

You know what they say: When you want to meet a hero, start a fire.

(then super serious)

What about my offer? Are you in, or are you out?

SPIDER-MAN

It's you who's out, Gobby.

(preparing to attack)

Out for good!!

GREEN GOBLIN

Your final answer?

SPIDER-MAN

My final answer.

GREEN GOBLIN

Imbecile! You've crawled your last wall!

He reaches to his belt, hurls a razor bat at Spider-Man who deflects it with his left arm. SNICK!

SPIDER-MAN*(pain)*AHHH!

Spider-Man looks down at his arm. A deep gash oozes blood.

He shoots a "web ball," about the size of a softball, into The Goblin's face, sending him ass over elbows back into the wall.

The Goblin rises, determined, pissed, flicking gooey web from his face. When his eyes clear, Spider-Man is gone. A trail of blood leads out the window. The Goblin's body tenses, he howls with anger.

GREEN GOBLIN

I don't forgive and I don't forget.
You can consider my offer withdrawn!

99 INT. HARRY'S APARTMENT - DAY

99 *

A browning turkey is pulled out of the oven by a pot-holder.

Aunt May forks the turkey to test it. M.J., in her black dress and apron, helps. The signs of a full Thanksgiving meal are on the counter all around them, and the dining room table in Harry's apartment is set for five.

Harry is fastidiously checking the table, plumping pillows, straightening chairs. The doorbell RINGS. *

HARRY *

Okay... he's here. *

Mary Jane comes out of the kitchen, takes off apron. *

HARRY (cont'd) *

You look great. *

Harry opens the door. Norman Osborn stands in the hallway in a very nice suit, dabbing sweat off his forehead with a handkerchief. He carries a small, ribboned pastry box. Mary Jane comes out of the kitchen. *

OSBORN *

Sorry I'm late. Work was murder. Here's a fruitcake. Who's this young lady? *

HARRY *

M.J., I'd like you to meet my father, Norman Osborn. Dad, I'd like you to meet Mary Jane Watson. M.J. *

She flashes a radiant smile. Osborn steps closer, holding out a hand but also, unmistakably, narrowing his eyes. Studying her. *

OSBORN *

How do you do? I've been looking forward to meeting you. *

M.J. *

(senses badness)
Happy Thanksgiving, sir. *

AUNT MAY *

(moves in)
Hello Norman. We're so pleased you're here. Where's Peter? He better have remembered the cranberry sauce. *

Peter crawls across the ceiling and drops onto the floor in his bedroom. *

B103 IN THE LIVING ROOM, B103 *

They hear a BIG THUD. *

AUNT MAY

My goodness. *

103 IN PETER'S BEDROOM, 103

He pulls off his mask and immediately tends to his injured, bleeding arm. He whips around and looks at the door, wild-eyed. He sees shapes moving through the frosted glass of his bedroom door, hears Aunt May's voice calling to him. *

He still has his mask off, holding a bundle of street clothes. *

104 IN THE LIVING ROOM, 104

Aunt May is nearly to the door, Norman, Harry, and M.J. just behind her. She turns the handle, opens it, and they see --

105 IN PETER'S BEDROOM, 105

-- nothing. The room is empty.

HARRY

Pete?

AUNT MAY

But there's nobody here... *

Osborn comes in and glances around the room. Kind of a mess, clothes and books and science equipment scattered everywhere. But no Peter. *

We look up. Peter, maskless, clings to the ceiling not three feet over their heads. A big, fat drop of blood is oozing from the cuts on his arm, right over Osborn's head.

OSBORN

Bit of a slob, isn't he?

AUNT MAY

All brilliant men are.

Osborn smiles, loves that Aunt May, they turn to walk out --

105 CONTINUED: (2)

-- and the drop of blood falls. It hits the light-colored carpet, right where he was standing. Osborn, the last in the doorway, freezes, tilts his head at the sound. Good hearing, man. Human Performance Enhancers will do that for you.

The others leave, but Osborn turns and walks back to where he was standing.

On the ceiling, Spidey's eyes widen -- oh no. Osborn is directly below him.

Osborn bends down, studies the carpet. He sees the drop of blood. Quickly, he looks up at the ceiling above him.

There's nobody there.

He turns, looks at the open window. He walks to it.

106 FROM OUTSIDE THE WINDOW,

106

Osborn leans outside and looks in both directions. Camera pulls back to reveal Spider-Man clinging to the underside of the ledge.

Apparently satisfied, Osborn turns and goes back inside.

107

The front door to Harry's apartment opens again. Peter attempts a casual entrance, now dressed in street clothes and carrying a brown paper bag.

PETER

Hey everyone.

(kisses Aunt May)

Sorry I took so long, it's a jungle out there. I had to hit an old lady with a stick to get these cranberries.

AUNT MAY

Oh, Peter. Come on everyone, let's sit down and say a prayer.

They all move for the table. Norman reaches for the jellied cranberry log. Aunt May slaps his hand.

AUNT MAY (cont'd)

...and Norman...

(indicates turkey and carving knife)

...will you do the honors?

Norman picks up the knife. Aunt May reacts to blood on Peter's arm.

AUNT MAY (cont'd)

Peter, you're bleeding!

PETER

Yeah, I stepped off a curb and got clipped by one of those bike messengers. *

AUNT MAY

Let me see.

She pushes his sleeves up, exposing the X-shaped slashes in his forearm.

AUNT MAY (cont'd)

What in the name of heavenly glory?!

Norman Osborn's eyes widen. He recognizes those slashes!

AUNT MAY (cont'd)

You've got to be more careful out there! This city has a lunatic on every corner.

We move in on Norman, holding the carving knife, his eyes focusing in like laser beams, staring at the distinctive cuts on Peter's arms.

AUNT MAY (cont'd)

Everyone sit down, I'll go and get the First Aid kit. And then we'll say grace. This is the boys' first Thanksgiving in this apartment and we're going to do things properly. *

OSBORN

(to Peter)

How did you say that happened?

PETER

... Bike messenger. *

As Peter turns to Norman, his breathing sharpens, his eyes widen and fill with fear, suddenly and inexplicably kicks in like crazy. Everybody around him slows to a crawl, and his P.O.V. pivots around the room, rapidly scanning every nook and cranny for the source of the danger that must surely be nearby. He flips from frozen face to frozen face -- Aunt May, M.J., Norman, Harry -- all friends, right?

HIS SPIDER-SENSE

BACK IN THE APARTMENT,

Peter pops out of his Spider-Sense, confused, drops of sweat on his forehead, to find Osborn still staring at him.

PETER (CONT'D)

(finishing)

... knocked me down.

OSBORN

You'll have to excuse me, I'm afraid
I've got to go.

HARRY

What? Why?

OSBORN

Something... has come to my attention.

HARRY

Are you all right?

OSBORN

Fine, I'm fine. Thank you. Mrs.
Parker. Everyone.

AUNT MAY

What happened?

He strides out of the apartment, throwing one last look back at Peter Parker.

HARRY

Dad!

Osborn leans against the wall in the hallway, eyes darting, thinking a mile a minute. Harry comes out behind him, leaving the door ajar.

HARRY

What are you doing? I planned this whole thing so you could meet M.J. and you barely even looked at her!

OSBORN

I've got to go.

He turns, starts down the hall. Harry grabs him by the arm, turns him around.

HARRY

Hey, I like this girl, this is important to me!

OSBORN

Harry, please. Look at her. You think a woman like that's sniffing around because she likes your personality?

HARRY

What are you saying, Dad?

OSBORN

Your mother was beautiful, too. They're all beautiful, till they're snarling after your trust fund like ravening wolves.

HARRY

Dad... This girl's not...

OSBORN

(interrupts him)
A word to the not-so-wise about your little girlfriend. Do what you need to with her and broom her fast.

Osborn leaves.

HARRY

What?

109 IN THE APARTMENT,

109

M.J. stands on this side of the door. Listening. Everyone else is in the living room or kitchen. They can all hear.

M.J. turns away and grabs her coat. Harry comes back in. M.J. storms past him.

HARRY

Where are you going?

M.J.

Thanks for sticking up for me, Harry.

HARRY

You heard?

M.J.

Everyone could hear that creep.

HARRY

(suddenly angry)
That "creep" is my father! Alright?!
If I'm lucky, I've got the brains and the guts to become half of what he is, so you keep your goddamn mouth shut about things you don't understand.

*

*

Harry Osborn!

M.J.

You're acting like somebody's father -- mine!

I'm sorry, Aunt May. *

She storms out of the apartment, SLAMMING the door behind her.

PETER

Harry, go after her! *

HARRY

I don't think so.

PETER

Harry, come on!

HARRY

No. I can't.

(to Aunt May)

Welcome to an Osborn Thanksgiving.

He storms into his bedroom and SLAMS the door.

PETER

Sorry, Aunt May. It looked great.

He jumps up, gives her a kiss, and hurries out of the apartment. Aunt May, shocked at all the discord, sits at the table alone. *

AUNT MAY

We didn't even get to say grace. *

110 EXT STREET DAY

110 *

Peter hurries out of the building. Looks for M.J., sees her sitting on a nearby step. She's crying. The chauffeur-driven Bentley drives past. M.J. gives it the finger. *

Peter stands by her. She looks up at him, mascara dripping. She needs a hanky. He has one. Holds it out to her.

PETER

Take it.

She hesitates, takes it.

PETER (cont'd)

Keep it, it's yours. Got a million of 'em. Aunt May, a dozen every Christmas.

She laughs through her tears. She blows her nose. "Honnk." She laughs harder. Then starts to cry harder. He sits next to her.

PETER (cont'd)

That's okay. Good cry.

M.J.

I'm sorry I acted like that, but I couldn't stay there. Being treated that way brings back bad stuff. I hate being thought of as if I'm not worth anything.

PETER

I understand.

M.J.

I know you do. Your poor Aunt May. But I can't go back in there.

PETER

She'll be okay. She's tough. I've never seen Mr. Osborn act like that. I've never seen either of them act like that.

(a beat)

But I know Harry really loves you.

M.J.

Sometimes I wonder why I ever went out with him in the first place. I guess because he asked me. Dumb, black dress.

PETER

However, you do look extremely beautiful in it.

She looks at him, smiles at him.

M.J.

Thank you. You look very handsome yourself tonight.

An opportunity. He could kiss her now, but he doesn't make a move. He's more in love than ever. She puts her arm around his shoulder. Looks off. No move.

CAMERA angles up to SEE HARRY at the window looking down.

114 EXT OSBORN'S APARTMENT NIGHT

Norman Osborn's apartment building. Nighttime, drifting toward it. We hear a VOICE from inside. The Goblin.

GREEN GOBLIN (O.S.)

This changes everything...

115 INT OSBORN STUDY NIGHT

115 *

We see Osborn, huddled on the floor, cowering in a pool of light at the end of the hall. He's got something in his hand.

GREEN GOBLIN (O.S.)

Spider-Man is all but invincible... but Parker... Parker is flesh and blood... We can destroy him...

OSBORN

I can't! I've been like a father to that boy. He the good son.

GREEN GOBLIN (O.S.)

Which is exactly what he wanted! He came to you, the greedy, open-mouthed, scheming little orphan...

OSBORN

He did...

GREEN GOBLIN

Plucked your heartstrings like a master... Connived his way into your heart, leaving no room for Harry, your TRUE son and heir...

Closer to him now, we see what he's got in his hand. It's the mask he has worn as the Green Goblin. He's clutching it in two hands, talking to it.

OSBORN

It's true... oh God...

GREEN GOBLIN (O.S.)

And now, after everything you've done for Peter Parker, after everything you've taught him, THIS is how he repays you?!

OSBORN

What have I done to Harry? What have I done to my own son?

GREEN GOBLIN (O.S.)

*Betrayal must not be countenanced....
Parker must be... educated.*

OSBORN

What do I do?

GREEN GOBLIN (O.S.)

Instruct him in the matters of loss and pain... Make him suffer, make him wish he were dead...

OSBORN

Yes!

GREEN GOBLIN (O.S.)

And then grant his wish.

OSBORN

But how?

GREEN GOBLIN (O.S.)

The cunning warrior attacks neither body nor mind...

We drift down, to the mask, which doesn't speak, of course, that's all in Norman's head. But we continue to hear his thoughts as we drift into its ghastly yellow eyes --

OSBORN

TELL ME HOW!

GREEN GOBLIN (O.S.)

The heart, Osborn... first we attack his heart.

-- and the screen turns yellow.

Aunt May is getting ready for bed dressed in flannel pajamas. She moves to a photograph of Uncle Ben on the bedside table, touches it affectionately. Aunt May kneels by the bed. Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come, thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us. Lead us not into temptation, but...

Suddenly the wall behind her EXPLODES, SHATTERED glass flying in all directions.

Aunt May spins around, horrified, and falls to the floor. The Goblin hovers over her and the room slowly fills with green vapor and the horrible BUZZ of the Glider's turbine engine.

AUNT MAY (cont'd)

... but... but... but...

Aunt May pales as she stares into the Goblin's inhuman eyes.

GREEN GOBLIN

FINISH IT! FINISH IT!

Her hands clutch her chest, she GASPS:

... DELIVER US FROM EVIL!!

Her body arches, tenses, then goes limp. Her eyes close.

GREEN GOBLIN

AMEN, SISTER!

117 EXT PARKER HOUSE NIGHT 117

From across the street, the Green Goblin's horrible CACKLE fills the neighborhood night.

118 INT HOSPITAL CORRIDOR NIGHT 118

Peter races down a hospital corridor, frantic. He reaches the last room on the right, ducks inside, and sees --

119 INT HOSPITAL ROOM NIGHT 119

-- Aunt May, in a hospital bed, hooked up to a variety of urgently BEEPING machines. DOCTORS and NURSES swarm around her, treating her. Peter rushes forward, to her bedside.

PETER

She looks up at him, still conscious, but barely so.

PETER (cont'd)

What happened?! Is she going to be okay?!

NURSE

Sir, please! Let the doctors work!

The nurse leads Peter to the door. The doors start to close when Peter hears --

AUNT MAY

Those eyes... those horrible yellow eyes!

A Doctor hurriedly puts an oxygen mask over Aunt May's face. The door shuts in Peter's face.

The middle of the night. Peter sits a lonely vigil in Aunt May's hospital room. He's brought a picture for her bedside, a framed shot of May, Ben, and himself.

He looks at the picture, at Uncle Ben. Gone. Back at Aunt May. Nearly killed, because of me. He leans down, kisses her forehead as he blinks back tears.

PETER

I'm sorry.

A122 INT. HOSPITAL HALLWAY - DAY

A122 *

M.J. carries a bouquet of flowers, checks room numbers as she passes. She comes across Aunt May's room, peeks in. *

Peter sits in a chair next to Aunt May's bed, his head in his hands. Open text books and fast food sacks lie scattered about. Aunt May is asleep. If it wasn't for the surroundings and the circumstances, it would be a beautiful sight. *

M.J. takes this in, moved. *

122 INT HOSPITAL ROOM DAY

122

FAVOR PETER. There's a soft TAPPING from the door behind him. He turns. It's M.J. He lights up. *

M.J.

Can I come in? *

Peter nods. M.J. looks at Aunt May. She comes to Peter, still holding the flowers, puts her arms around his neck, gives him a hug. He closes his eyes, almost can't bear it. *

M.J. (cont'd)

(with arms around him) *

I'm so sorry. I just heard about it. *

She turns to the bed, moves closer to Aunt May. She lays the flowers on the bedside table, gently touches Aunt May's forehead. *

M.J. (cont'd)

Will she be okay? *

PETER

We think so. She finally woke up this morning. For a while. Thanks for coming. *

M.J.

Who would do this to your Aunt May? Why would anyone want to hurt her? *

Peter doesn't answer. *

M.J. (CONT'D)

I'm sorry, Peter, I know you've asked yourself these questions. *

PETER

It's okay, how about you? Are you alright about the other night? *

M.J.

I'm sorry about that. Makes things worse for everybody.

PETER

You were fine. Have you talked to Harry?

M.J.

He called me. I haven't called him back.

She turns away from Peter, looks at sleeping Aunt May. She takes the time to tuck in her bed sheet.

M.J. (cont'd)

(without facing Peter)

The fact is, I'm in love with somebody else.

PETER

You are?

M.J.

At least I think I am.

(turns to Peter)

This isn't the time to talk about this.

PETER

No, go on. Would I know his name?
This guy.

M.J.

You'll think I'm a stupid little girl with a crush.

PETER

Trust me.

M.J.

I'm like head over heels, it's whacked...

PETER

Who is he?

M.J.

It's funny. He saved my life twice, and I've never seen his face.

PETER

(pleased)
Oh. Him.

M.J.

You're laughing at me.

PETER

No, I understand, he is extremely cool.

M.J.

But do you think it's true, the terrible things they say about him?

PETER

No way. That isn't Spider-Man, not a chance in the world. I know him a little bit. I'm sort of his unofficial photographer.

Peter is embarrassed, he's said too much. To his surprise, M.J. reaches out and takes his hand. Which, of course, is exactly when --

-- Harry Osborn comes in the door, carrying a bouquet of flowers. His eyes go immediately to M.J. and Peter, standing so close, holding hands, looking at each other in That Way.

HARRY

Hello.

And they confirm it all by hastily withdrawing their hands. Harry's face hardens.

123 EXT OSBORN'S BUILDING NIGHT 123

That night. We drift toward the rooftop colonnades of Norman Osborn's spooky apartment building.

124 INT FIRST FLOOR NIGHT 124

Harry comes in the front door.

HARRY

Dad?

No answer. But light spills from the staircase that leads up.

125 INT UPSTAIRS HALL NIGHT 125

Harry stands at the bottom of the stairs, he can faintly hear voices, ANGRY MURMURING. But he can't make out the words. *

HARRY

Dad? Is that you?

The voices abruptly stop. A moment later, his father appears at the top of the stairs. They talk, from this great distance. Osborn is just a dark shadow. *

OSBORN

What is it? *

HARRY

You were right about M.J. You were right about everything. She's in love with Peter. *

OSBORN

(pause) *

Parker? *

Osborn begins to move down the stairs toward Harry. *

HARRY

Yeah. *

OSBORN

And... how does he feel about her? *

HARRY

Are you kidding? He's loved her since the fourth grade. He just acts like he doesn't. But there's nobody Peter cares more about. *

Osborn's eyes light up at this information. *

OSBORN

I'm sorry...

(pause)

I haven't always been there for you, have I?

HARRY

Well... you're busy... you're an important man, I understand that.

OSBORN

It's no excuse. I'm proud of you.
And I lost sight of that somewhere.
But I'm going to make it up to you.
I'm going to rectify certain... inequities.

He comes into the light, slips an arm around his son. Hugs him. It'd be nice, if it weren't so creepy.

OSBORN (cont'd)

I love you son.

126 INT HOSPITAL ROOM NIGHT

Huh? *

(he stands quickly, his homework falls to the floor) *

You're awake. That's good. Good. *

You okay? *

AUNT MAY *

I'm okay, but I think you should go home and get some sleep. You look awful. *

AUNT MAY (CONT'D)

Haven't seen one of those on your face since Mary Jane was here.

PETER

Hey, you were supposed to be asleep. What did you hear?

AUNT MAY

(an enigmatic smile)

You know, you were about six years old when M.J.'s family moved in next door. And when she got out of the car and you saw her for the first time, you grabbed me and said "Aunt May, Aunt May! Is that an angel?"

PETER

Gee, Aunt May, did I say that?

AUNT MAY

You sure did, Peter.

PETER

Harry's in love with her. She's still his girl.

AUNT MAY

Isn't that up to her?

PETER

She doesn't really know me.

AUNT MAY

Because you won't let her. You're so mysterious all the time. Tell me, would it be so dangerous to let Mary Jane know how much you care? Everyone else knows.

Peter considers this for a beat, the full meaning coming to him. A concerned look spreads across his face.

PETER

I'll be right back.

Peter rises, races out of the room--

M.J., it's Peter, you there? Hello? Alright, well, I'm calling to check up on you, so call me when you get in... Uh... don't go up any dark alleys.

There is a CLICK as the phone picks up at the other end.

PETER (cont'd)

Hello?

No answer. Then, a sound. No... a CACKLE.

Peter's face pales.

The CACKLE grows louder. Finally, the Goblin's VOICE:

GREEN GOBLIN (O.S.)

Can Spider-Man come out to play?

PETER

Where is she?

We move in on Peter's face as he hears the most terrifying words of his life.

GREEN GOBLIN

- This is why only fools are heroes! *
- Spider-Man freezes. *

Because you never know when some lunatic will come along with a sadistic choice...

He shoves M.J. further out, so her toes are actually over the edge. She looks down, almost loses her balance. Cars race over the bridge platform, two hundred feet down.

Let die the woman you love...

The Goblin loosens his grip on the cable, lets it slip through his hands causing the tram to drop, a sickening dip. The children SCREAM.

ATOP THE BRIDGE

The Goblin watches with glee, tightens his grip on the cable.

... or suffer the little children.

Spider-Man watches as the tram sways horribly, sees the pleading faces of the Children and their Fathers as they POUND on the glass, begging for help.

He looks back up, sees J.J. teetering over the edge, the Goblin's hand in her back.

Make your choice, Spider-Man, and see how a hero is rewarded!

Spider-Man is momentarily paralyzed, torn in half.

The tram quivers.

M.J. teeters.

This is your doing! You caused this!
This is the life you have chosen!

Spider-Man looks, left, right, left, right, agonizes over his choice.

Choose!

The Green Goblin lets go of M.J. and the cable at the same time, sending them to their deaths below.

Spider-Man watches as the tram falls before him, M.J. behind him. He looks back and forth, turns, sprints along the bridge toward M.J. and leaps--

--grabbing M.J. in mid-air. He shoots a web to the undercarriage of the bridge, swings underneath with M.J.

SPIDER-MAN

Hold on!

He releases his web, grabs the cable to the tram dancing before him. The weight of the tram yanks Spider-Man and M.J. down, out of frame.

IN MID-AIR

Spider-Man, the cable in one hand, M.J. on his back, falls with the tram to the water below.

Spider-Man uses his free hand to shoot out a web toward the underside of the bridge. The web sticks.

146 INT. TRAM - NIGHT

146

The tram comes to a halt, bounces up and down. KIDS, DADS and equipment tumble about.

147 EXT. BRIDGE ROADWAY - NIGHT

147

A crowd has formed atop the bridge. Some cheer at Spider-Man's heroics.

148 EXT. QUEENSBORO BRIDGE NIGHT

Spider-Man's body is stretched to the limit with one hand holding on to the cable, the other the web.

SPIDER-MAN

Climb down.

M.J. turns, looks at him, confused.

SPIDER-MAN (cont'd)

The cable to the tram, climb down.

M.J.

(voice quivering)

I can't.

SPIDER-MAN

M.J., just do it.

M.J.

I'm scared.

SPIDER-MAN

Trust me.

M.J. looks him in the eyes, down to the water below, then back to his eyes.

SPIDER-MAN (cont'd)

Trust me.

She climbs down his body, then the cable.

Spider-Man watches M.J. descend the cable. He hears a WHINE from behind and turns to see just as-- --The Goblin hauls off and cold cocks him in the jaw, zooms away.

The force of the blow causes Spider-Man to sway back and forth as he struggles to remain conscious.

ON THE CABLE

M.J. barely manages to hang on as she is thrown side to side.

151 INT. TRAM NIGHT

151

The tram dips again, causing bodies to go flying.

152 EXT. QUEENSBOR BRIDGE - NIGHT

152 *

The Goblin swings around for another assault. He CACKLES as he extends his arm, exposing the razor sharp blades which adorn it. Spider-Man watches, helpless as The Goblin delivers a crushing blow to his stomach. Pieces of flesh and Spidey suit go flying. He loses his grip on the cable.

WIDE SHOT OF TRAM & M.J. PLUNGING TOWARD THE WATER BELOW

Spider-Man dangles from the web grasping for the cable snaking past him. As the last of the cable whizzes by he lunges for it, catches it. Spider-Man SCREAMS out in agony, blood gushing from his hand.

The cable goes taunt causing M.J. to lose her grip. She falls, landing on the tram below. She raises her head and sees Spider-Man, head to the side, out of energy, holding on to cable and web. She hears the glider's engine and sees The Goblin circling in for a final blow--

--but he stops. Looks at Spider-Man before him, his body stretched to the limit, looking like a rag doll with his head to the side. He almost looks as if he feels sorry for Spider-Man. His hovering engine emits a light HUM.

Spider-Man raises his head, looks at the Goblin.

Sorry for? Naah! The Goblin gives an evil grin and the glider races toward Spider-Man full throttle.

Spider-Man braces for the blow. The Goblin zeros in on his prey, cocks back a fist--

--but a huge chunk of asphalt clocks him in the side of the head, sending him spiraling out of control, past Spider-Man.

The Goblin regains control, looks around. Where the hell'd that come from? He raises his head just as he is pelted with more asphalt, bottles, shoes, etc.

We PULL BACK to reveal a bridge full of New Yorkers hurling anything and everything they can get their hands on.

GREEN GOBLIN
(covering his face)
AAHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHH!

He zooms out of sight to avoid the raining debris.

165 INT. HULKING RUIN - NIGHT

165 *

From below, we watch as Spider-Man crashes through the termite-infested boards of the third floor. As he falls he shoots a web to a support beam, swings down and smashes through a wall of crumbling brick and rotten wood, knocking him out and ripping off the majority of his mask.

166 INT. HULKING RUIN - NIGHT - LATER

166 *

Spider-Man comes to. Can't quite make out where he is. Light streams in from the massive holes of the condemned structure. Dust dances about, making it difficult to see.

He looks up, hears the WHOOSHING of the Goblin's Glider circling about. He gets to his feet, staggers and falls down. Pulls himself back up. He looks at himself, covered in blood, costume in shreds.

He hears a strange blood curdling scrapping noise. He looks around, spots the lone unbroken window in the structure covered by a wooden shutter.

He approaches the window, still punch-drunk and flings back the shutter. A horde of razor bats press against the window, flapping their wings against the glass. Suddenly they burst through, sending shards of glass raining down on Spider-Man. They encircle him, dive, SLICE and SLASH at the few parts of his body that remain unbloodied. He screams out, tries to swat at them but that only leaves massive gashes in his hands.

Spider-Man looks across at the wall on the far end of the room and races toward it. The swarm of razor bats follow.

He runs full speed at the wall, jumps, plants his feet on the wall and does a back flip. The razor bats fly under him, crash into the wall, crumple to the ground.

Spider-Man looks at the heap of razor bats on the ground. A cocky smile creeps across his face.

SPIDER-MAN

You ain't so bad.

His happiness soon fades as more bats come after him. He flips and tumbles around the structure to elude them, but is quickly overtaken as they revert to ripping him to shreds. He falls to the ground.

GREEN GOBLIN (O.S.)

Enough!

20

The razor bats fail to heed their master's call, continue slicing and dicing.

GREEN GOBLIN (O.S.) (CONT'D)

I SAID, ENOUGH!

The razor bats stop their destruction, meekly fly away.

Spider-Man rolls over in a daze, an outline of blood marking his previous spot. He looks up at The Goblin hovering over him, tries to stand. His legs turn to jelly and he crashes to the ground. The Goblin laughs, reaches down onto his glider and pulls out a rod. He presses a button and three blades pop out giving the weapon a pitchfork/spear appearance.

Ahhh, misery, misery, misery. Again and again I've tried to make my case, but you won't oblige. Had you not been so determined, your sweetheart's death would have been quick and painless, but now, now that you've really pissed me off, I'll see to it that it's slow and... painful.

(moving in for the kill)

...just...like...yours.

The Goblin rears back with the spear, brings it down on Spider-Man's chest. At the last moment Spider-Man catches it, looks at The Goblin, his strength returning. He yanks the spear from The Goblin, SMASHES it against his head so hard it sends The Goblin flying back ten feet crashing to the ground.

Spider-Man rises, pissed, full of adrenaline, furry. He breaks the pitchfork over his knee, tosses the parts to the side. He grabs The Goblin by the chest, pulls him up from the ground, throws a haymaker to The Goblin's jaw.

The Goblin goes flying through a nearby wall. The Goblin rises, manages to advance. SMACK! Spider-Man delivers another devastating blow. The Goblin crumples against a nearby stone wall.

Please...

Spider-Man picks him up yet again, his rage is barely controlled. He pulls his fist back for another blow, and knowing this one will put him down for the count, Goblin, to save himself, pulls off his mask to reveal Norman Osborn.

GREEN GOBLIN (CONT'D)

Peter...

Spider-Man, his fist still in the air, ready to deliver the final blow, stares in the face of his best friend's father.

Shock. Disbelief. He rips off pieces of his own mask to make sure he's seeing right. He is. He lets go of Osborn who slumps to the floor, looking up at Peter, pathetically.

(small voice)

Peter...thank God for you.

Peter, his hands covered in blood, trembles, still with rage, shaken by the violence he feels inside.

PETER

Can't be...you're a monster.

OSBORN

Please, Peter, don't let it take me back. I need your help. I'm not a monster.

PETER

You killed those people on the balcony, you could have killed your son.

OSBORN

"IT" killed. The Goblin killed. I had nothing to do with it. Please, don't let it have me again. Protect me, I beg you. Talk to me about this--

Surreptitiously, Osborn brings his right hand around in front of him, unseen by Peter. On his wrist, the TOUCH PAD CONTROLS of the Goblin Glider flash patiently.

PETER

You tried to kill Aunt May. You wanted to kill Mary Jane.

OSBORN

But not you, I would never hurt you.

Osborn presses the RED BUTTON on the pad. Peter doesn't see. Behind Peter, the Glider rises up into the air without a sound. Osborn keeps talking, to keep him distracted.

OSBORN (cont'd)

I knew from the beginning if anything happened to me, you were the one I could count on, you Peter Parker, would save me, and so you have. Thank God for you.

During this, Osborn pushes himself to his feet. With his back against the wall, holds out a hand in pathetic supplication.

OSBORN (cont'd)

Give me your hand. Believe in me as I believed in you. I was like a father to you. Be a son to me now.

PETER

I have a father. His name was Ben Parker.

Suddenly a look crosses Peter's face. Osborn begins to cackle. It grows louder, crazier, totally, happily insane.

HIS SPIDER-SENSE KICKS IN

OSBORN

God's speed, Spider-Man.

Spider-Man's perception leaps outside his body and whips around, giving him a look behind him, just as -- -- the Goblin Glider's SPEAR rotates into position on the front of the moving Glider, in ultra-slow motion, just a few feet behind Peter, headed straight for his back!

In sudden real time, Peter hurls himself to the side, twisting and bending in a near-impossible contortion --

-- the Glider's turbine SCREAMS as it whistles just past him --

-- terror creases Osborn's face --

-- and his own Glider rockets right through him.

Norman Osborn slumps over, impaled by his own contraption, pinned to the wall. Peter rushes forward, but it's too late.

So dies Spider-Man's first, and most heinous, archfoe.

In the distance, Peter hears SIRENS, headed for the hulking ruin. He looks back at the body of Norman Osborn. Steps forward. He cradles him in his arms, lifts him --

A168 INT OSBORN'S APARTMENT NIGHT

-- and sets the body down again, this time on the floor of Osborn's apartment, beside wide-open French doors, curtains wafting in the breeze. Osborn's body is dressed again, no trace of the incriminating Green Goblin costume. Blood soaks through Osborn's shirt, he looks like the victim of a murder.

Spider-Man takes a few steps away, toward the open French doors, then hears a nearly-silent GASP from the door to the apartment. He whirls around.

Harry Osborn stands in the doorway, looking from his dead father to Spider-Man, aghast.

HARRY

You...

Spider-Man raises his hands to protest his innocence. He takes a step forward -- but Harry takes a step back in fear.

SPIDER-MAN

No...

HARRY

MURDERER!

Harry lunges toward a table nearby, opens the top drawer, grabs a gun and turns. *

But Spider-Man is gone. The curtains blow in the wind. *

168 EXT CEMETERY DAY

168

Track a line of expensive cars parked along the narrow winding road. In BG, a fresh grave, a few people from the service, including Pentagon generals, are dispersing. Aunt May and M.J. stand talking. *

Harry and Peter walk toward the Osborn Bentley. Silent. Then. *

PETER

I'm so sorry, Harry. I know what it's like to lose a father.

HARRY

I didn't lose him, he was stolen from me. And one day Spider-Man will pay.
(into Peter's eyes)
I swear on my father's grave, Spider-Man will pay. *

They reach the Bentley. Norman's chauffeur opens the door for Harry and moves off. *

HARRY (cont'd)

Look... about M.J. I was just trying to please my dad. I thought he'd be impressed, me, with such a beautiful woman. I know she was never right for me. I wanted to make him proud, that's all. Now I'll never be able to. Thank God for you my friend. You're all the family I have left. *

Harry gives Peter a hug, then gets in the car. Closes the door. The Bentley drives off. *

Peter turns and looks toward M.J. and Aunt May on the hill by Norman's gravesite. As he turns, M.J. locks eyes with Peter. Smiles at him. *

VERY CLOSE ON PETER - V.O. -- THE VOICE FROM THE OPENING SCENE *

PETER (V.O.)

HEY! *

NEW SHOT - PETER *

He turns. PULL BACK to show we are at Uncle Ben's gravesite. M.J. enters frame. *

M.J. (cont'd)

Your aunt thought I'd find you here. *

PETER

(to "Ben")

M.J.'s here, Uncle Ben. *

FAVOR THE TOMBSTONE - It reads: *

BEN PARKER
BELOVED HUSBAND AND UNCLE

M.J. moves closer to Peter.

M.J.

You must miss him so much.

PETER

He was a beautiful guy.

A pause. They begin to walk, heading up a small knoll. The skyline of New York in the background. M.J. stops.

M.J.

There's something I've been wanting to tell you.

(M.J. pauses a beat, Peter stops, waits)

When I was up there and I was sure I was going to die, there was only one person I was thinking of, and it wasn't who I thought it would be. It was you. I kept thinking, I hope I make it through this, so I can see Peter Parker's face one more time.

PETER

My face?

M.J.

(she nods)

Sometimes what you want... you have to go to the edge of your life to find out it was right next door.

This is blowing his mind.

M.J. (cont'd)

I've been so stupid for so long. There's only one man who was ever there for me, who has always been there for me... who makes me believe that I'm... more than I ever thought I was. That I'm just... me, and it's okay... The truth is... I love you. I really love you Peter.

During the last speech, CAMERA has moved slowly in for a TIGHT SHOT of Peter.

JAMESON

Spider-Man, I don't get it. First the town thinks he's trash, now he's a glamour boy.

ROBBIE

He's a hero, J.J.

JAMESON

Don't give me that line again, I don't trust heroes, they're nothing but criminals in disguise. HOFFMAN, where's Parker, I want some pictures.

HOFFMAN

He just left. *

Left? He's always leaving. *

HOFFMAN

He went to cover the hostage story. *

JAMESON

Sure! Another hostage story. But where is he when The Green Goblin busted through my window? The Goblin and Spider-Man, in front of our noses! A golden opportunity and the photographer when to lunch. *

(looking off)

And what's that? *

He's looking at an OFFICE BOY holding up a pair of trousers.

OFFICE BOY

Peter Parker's pants, J.J.

JAMESON

What?

OFFICE BOY

They were in the closet.

JAMESON

Parker's pants?

OFFICE BOY

With his shirt and tie and shoes and socks.

JAMESON

What's going on here, who's he think he is, Tarzan? Where is he, running around the town naked? And who put flowers on my desk?

MISS BRANT

I did, sir, it's your birthday.

JAMESON

What're you looking for, a raise? I don't want flowers, I want Peter Parker, not his pants, I want pictures, I wanta sell papers, I want Spider-Man!

(He continues on as:)

170 EXT CITY DAY

Spider-Man swings away, shimmering into the glass and stone canyons of his city.

FADE OUT.
